Mundt Backs McCarthy on Lavenia Issue

Asks Defense Chiefs To Tell Why Staffer Was Denied Clearance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today the Senate Investigations subcommittee is "trying for an elemental factor in American justice" in seeking an explanation for the denial of security clearance to Thomas W. Lavenia.

The Defense Department has refused to clear Lavenia, office manager and assistant counsel to the subcommittee, to handle secret documents. It has declined to say why on grounds that to do so would require disclosures of confidential information.

"Somebody's got to say this boy is guilty of something," Mundt said in an interview. He is ranking Republican member of the subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

'Improperly Maligned'

McCarthy accused the Defense Department last night of having "improperly maligned" Lavenia. He made public letters demanding that representatives of the Defense and Justice Departments appear at a closed session tomorrow to explain the denial of clearance.

McCarthy said he had written Secretary of Defense Wilson:

"The department's refusal to supply us information in this case leaves a cloud upon both the department and Mr. Lavenia . . . To hide behind a technicality that the information is of a 'confidential nature' helps neither Mr. Lavenia nor your department in what appears to be much more than merely an unfortunate situation."

The New York Times reported in a Washington dispatch, meanwhile, that administration and congressional sources said they expected the "early resignation" of John G. Adams as counselor of the Army.

Pressure Growing

Adams was a key figure in the row between McCarthy and Secretary of the Army Stevens and their aides, which the subcommittee investigated at 36 days of public hearings. The Times said pressures for Adams' resignation had been developing since the hearings ended June 17, and it added:

"Now informed officials expect him to go, perhaps before the final report, with recommendations, is made . . . within the Eisenhower administration, it was acknowledged at a high level that Mr. Adams would go but that he might be given another position outside the Army Department."

Adams, reported vacationing in Canada, could not be reached for comment. Secretary Stevens was also out of Washington. Secretary

4 Here Enter Pleas of Guilty To Dope Count

Held for Grand Jury Under $1,000 Bonds; Hearing Set for Fifth

Four of the five persons charged with fraudulently obtaining prescriptions for narcotic drugs pleaded guilty in Marion Municipal Court this morning and were ordered bound over to the Marion County Grand Jury under a $1,000 bond.

One other pleaded not guilty and was ordered held under $1,000 bond pending preliminary hearings on July 27.

Three Change Pleas

The three men and one of the two women arrested pleaded guilty in court today.

At first, the only one to plead guilty was Mrs. Hazel Laney, 41, of Fostoria. Later, her husband, Bud, 50, and Clarence Little, 49, also of Fostoria, and Albert Smith, 52, of Findlay changed not guilty pleas to pleas of guilty. They were all bound over to the Marion County Grand Jury under $1,000 bond.

Only member of the quintet who retained a plea of not guilty was Velma Mahoney, 53, of Findlay. All will be detained in county jail, Velma Mahoney until the preliminary hearing, and the rest until the Grand Jury meets.

Fraud Charged

Police Chief Thomas B. Coon said they had all been obtaining narcotic drugs by misrepresentation and fraud in Marion for the last month.

Police said they saw Mrs. Laney purchase some drugs at a local drug store and later found them in her possession and in the possession of her husband and Little.

Their method of operation — which had as its only purpose to obtain drugs for their own use — was for one of the men to visit a local doctor, give a false name and address and describe a false illness of his "seriously ill" wife. Once the prescription for the drug —usually morphine—was obtained, they would go to a drug store and one of the "sick" women would make the purchase of the drugs.

Chief Coon said today they made no attempt to sell the drugs and that the Fostoria trio and the Findlay pair apparently operated independently.

Kremlin Attack On Anti-Soviet Alliance Seen

Propaganda Burst Against EDC Next Move Against West

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U.S. officials believe the Kremlin will follow up the Indochina peace agreement with a reinforced drive to break the Western powers' anti-Communist alliance.

They expect an early and vigorous renewal of Soviet proposals made at Berlin early this year for an all-European defense treaty in which Russia would join. That plan was offered as an alternative to the European Defense Community treaty which the United States strongly urges as a means of permitting West German rearmament with French approval.

And there is considerable concern here that the Indochina agreement may throw European peoples off guard and thus make Soviet policies and propaganda aimed at a key point of the Western defense system more attractive.

Washington would like to see Western unity tightened and strengthened in the wake of the Geneva settlement. In fact, President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles give every evidence of regarding this as essential if the security of the non-Communist world is to be held against relent-

Southeast Asia Defense Parley Due in August

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and other friendly nations have agreed to call an international conference late next month to write a defensive alliance designed to protect the non-Communist lands of Southeast Asia against Communist conquest.

Highly placed diplomatic authorities said an announcement of the meeting is expected shortly.

To Follow Truce

The agreement was reached, these officials said, among Secretary of State Dulles, Undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith, British Foreign Secretary Eden and others at Geneva after it became certain that the fighting in Indochina would be ended by negotiated peace with the Communists.

Some officials told a reporter the meeting probably will be held some place in the Asian area and that the level of representation—Foreign Ministers or persons of lesser rank —is yet to be determined.

The United States originally proposed that 10 nations make up the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. They were the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, the Philippines and the Indochinese states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

India Suggested

The British wanted to bring in as many additional Asian nations as possible, including India, Burma and Pakistan.

The makeup of the projected meeting remains to be worked out. If Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam are permitted by the Indochina peace terms to agree to attend they will undoubtedly be included. But even if it is finally decided they cannot attend, American officials said privately that the defensive alliance can be written to protect them as well as countries like Thailand which would be members.

French Chief Set To Make Truce Report

Mendes-France Back In Paris, Plans Push For 3-Point Program

PARIS (AP) — Smiling and looking relaxed, Premier Pierre Mendes-France returned home from Geneva today to present to the French Assembly the Indochina cease-fire he promised a month ago to win from the Communists.

His DC3 military plane touched down at Villa Coublay Airport and a few minutes later Mendes-France stepped out jauntily to greet about 150 persons, including members of his cabinet, his family and a corps of newsmen and photographers crowded about the ramp.

The Premier first kissed his attractive wife, then moved on to greet other members of his family and Finance Minister Edgar Faure acting Premier during his weeks of bargaining with the Communists in Geneva.

Makes No Statement

Mendes-France made no statement before pushing through the crowd to his car and heading for a Cabinet meeting.

The group about the plane had applauded politely as he stepped down but there was no other demonstration.

Leaving Geneva earlier today, Mendes-France said he believed the results of the conference were "worth the efforts we have made."

"I have read," he said, "that yesterday was the first day of total peace in the world in many years."

Addressing himself to "the men and women of the United States, whose love of peace is well known to my country," Mendes-France voiced the hope that "the world is now entering a phase where the efforts of all governments will be more devoted every day to the reinforcement of this new and fragile peace and to the progress of mankind."

EDC Next Problem

After he delivers his report on Indochina to the Assembly, Mendes-France must start the push for the rest of the three-point "Save France" program on which he won office.

The most crucial point in the program—in Western eyes—is the role France intends to play in the disputed European Defense Community. Before he left Geneva, Mendes-France heard the United States and Russia present last minute arguments for and against the international army plan to rearm West Germany.

First Russia's V. M. Molotov caught the French Premier's ear yesterday to remind him of Russia's objections to the defense community idea. The Soviet foreign minister apparently hoped the Reds' agreement to an Indochina peace at Geneva would persuade

Officer Faces Army Court in Abuse Hearing

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP)—Lt. Robert S. Morgan of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., goes on trial by a special court-martial today on a charge of forcing a company of trainees to stand at attention in 90-degree heat.

The charges against Morgan, 28, and a sergeant followed an Army investigation into the June 21 incident.

As soon as Morgan's case is concluded, a new panel will sit to consider the charges against Sgt. Richard J. Witbeck, 24, of Wellington, Ohio.

Both have been accused of taking mass disciplinary action against Co. L of the 272nd Infantry Regiment. Several of the trainees were said to have fainted.

Morgan and Witbeck were relieved of their duties after the incident.

A special five-man court-martial board, headed by Lt. Col. Lawrence E. Johnson, will hear Morgan's case.

Capt. Harry Lapham, post public information officer, said Morgan would be tried on negligence charges, and Witbeck for allegedly maltreating personnel.

After Morgan's case is finished, five men will be picked from an entire new panel of 11 members to hear Witbeck's case.

FLOOD DEBRIS BURIES CARS. Autos were half buried by this avalanche of mud and rocks which swept down the main street of Miami, Ariz., following a three-inch rainfall in surrounding mountains. Damage was estimated at $500,000 in the mining town, about 90 miles east of Phoenix.

Sheppard Principals

Inquest Opened, 15 Receive Subpenas

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fifteen persons are summoned to answer questions under oath today about what they know of Marilyn Sheppard, murdered wife of a Bay Village osteopath.

Subpenaed to appear at a public inquest by Coroner Samuel R. Gerber are major witnesses and principals in the case, which began July 4 when the pretty, 31-year-old woman was found battered to death in a blood-soaked bed.

Doctor Star Witness

Gerber said subpenas have been issued for:

Dr. Samuel R. Sheppard, 30, handsome and athletic husband of the victim, who told police he had fought with one or two intruders the night of the murder.

Samuel R. (Chip) Sheppard, six-and-a-half year old only child of the couple. The youngster, reported out of town at a summer camb, may not be served the summons.

The osteopath's two brothers and their wives—Dr. and Mrs. Richard N. Sheppard and Dr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Sheppard.

Mayor and Wife Called

Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Ahern, neighbors who were dinner guests of the Sheppards the night before the murder was discovered.

Mayor and Mrs. J. Spencer Houk of Bay Village, who hurried over to the Sheppard home after a frantic call by the oseopath that "I think they've killed Marilyn."

The Houk's son, Larry, was also summoned.

Two firemen—Richard Sommer and Ronald L. Callihan—and two policemen — Patrolman Fred F. Drenkhan and Sgt. Jay Hubach—who were called to the scene.

Meanwhile, Police Chief Frank W. Story of Cleveland said complete direction of the investigation would come from his office.

Separate Cool Fronts Blanket Northern U.S.

By The Associated Press

Two separate cool fronts advanced across the northern half of the nation Thursday depressing the July heat wave mostly to the Southern Plains states.

One area of cool air stretched from the Pacific Northwest across the Rockies and the other extended from the Great Lakes, southward to the Ohio Valley and eastward to New England.

The northern edge of the sweltering belt extended from Virginia across Kentucky and southern Illinois northwestward into the Dakotas.

Daytime temperatures in the hot area were 90 and above with 100 plus readings in Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Texas.

The July heat wave, which has caused more than 300 deaths across the nation, has been centered principally in the Southern and Central Plains.

The temperature drops in 24 hours ranged from 20 to 37 degrees over parts of Montana. Havre, Mont., had a high of 64 compared with 101 the preceding day.

Showers or thunderstorms occurred over most of the Rocky Mountain region, the Northern Plains, Iowa, Missouri, and throughout most of the eastern third of the nation.

A tornado was sighted near Chadron, Neb., where several thunderstorms occurred.

Temperatures early today ranged from the 50s and 60s along the Canadian border to the 70s and 80s in the South.

3 Additional Rubber Firms Facing Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—A nationwide strike against the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. entered its third week today, while workers in Akron plants of three other companies armed their union negotiators with strike power.

The CIO United Rubber Workers continued talks here with Goodyear representatives, but no progress has been reported in settling the wage dispute which has 23,000 workers in 10 plants on strike.

About 13,000 Goodyear workers are in Akron, where employes gave power to call a strike to union representatives negotiating with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., the B. F. Goodrich Co. and the Seiberling Rubber Co.

Workers across the nation in other plants of the three companies are taking similar strike votes this week.

Contract talks are also continuing in New York between the union and the U.S. Rubber Co., which has 35,000 workers in 19 plants throughout the country. A strike had been threatened last Monday midnight, when the previous contract expired, but the union agreed to further negotiations.

Report Awaited On Goodrich Talks

Workers and officials at the B. F. Goodrich Co. plant near Marion still were awaiting word from Cincinnati today on progress made toward a new contract between the Goodrich Co. and the United Rubber Workers Union.

Company officials said this morning no new report had been received on the talks, aimed at settling wage differences. Earlier this week the union members in Marion had voted to authorize their officers to call a strike should the negotiations fail to produce a settlement by the time the contract expires.

Goodrich has offered a five-cent-an-hour increase in both the basic wage rates and the incentive pay rates. The union is reported to be asking for seven and one - half cents per hour in basic wage increases and five and one-half cents per cent in incentive pay rates.

Company officials here expressed the opinion the issue would be settled when Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. signs with the union. Workers at Goodyear have been on strike for nearly two weeks.

If the union here goes on strike, about 150 of the 175 employes at the plant, located outside Green Camp, would be affected.

Grunewald, 62, Is Indicted on Perjury Counts

Federal Grand Jurors Find 'The Dutchman' Lied at Tax Quizzes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald, reputed Washington wire-puller, was indicted here today on charges that he lied repeatedly in denying tax-fixing activities under the Truman administration.

The indictment, returned by a federal grand jury, accused Grunewald of committing perjury 10 times in recent appearances before the jury itself and in testimony during April, 1953, before a House Ways and Means subcommittee investigating tax scandals.

The multiple charges in the indictment carry possible penalties up to $12,000 in fines and 70 years imprisonment.

Grunewald, 62, who became an associate of prominent persons in the capital and a man of mystery, made some appearances before the grand jury late last year when he was completing a 90-day jail sentence for contempt of Congress.

That sentence, which included a $1,000 fine, resulted from Grunewald's refusal in 1952 to give the House committee anything more than his name when he answered a subpoena to testify. The jail term was originally suspended.

However, Grunewald and a woman companion were found apparently overcome by gas in a Jersey City apartment in August, 1953, and he was made to serve the time, on grounds that he had left the jurisdiction of the District of Columbia courts without permission.

Battle Goes On in Spite of Two Defeats

Sen. Knowland Keeps Chamber in Session As Power Issue Boils

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate critics of the administration's atomic legislation fought on doggedly today though worn by an all-nite session and beaten badly on a test vote which upheld President Eisenhower's order for a new private power plant in Arkansas.

Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) served notice he would keep the session—which began at 10 a.m. (EDT) yesterday — going right on into Sunday if necessary to pass the bill.

Filibuster Denied

Knowland spoke of the long debate as a filibuster, but opponents denied they were trying to talk the measure to death.

They were plainly out, however, to dramatize the issue and build it up to importance in the election campaigns. Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) told newsmen he would stump the nation to call "the people's attention to the capture of the Eisenhower administration by the private power trust."

At 10 a.m. (EDT)—the 24-hour mark of the session—Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) was in the midst of a speech he had begun at 5:16 a.m. Fewer than half a dozen senators were in their seats and one of the Senate's two women members, Sen. Bowring (R-Neb), was presiding.

Many senators had remained close by through the night, however, napping on cots set up in cloakrooms or on couches in their offices. And through the night, there were always a few spectators in the public galleries.

Big Test Vote

The big test vote, taken before midnight, defeated 55-36 an attempt to block Eisenhower's order for a new private power plant in Arkansas. A second vote, 56-35, then clinched it by giving affirmative approval for the plan.

This issue had thus been disposed of when Morse, who holds the Senate's long-distance speaking record of 22 hours and 26 minutes, gained the floor for what he said would be a "relatively short speech" of five or six hours.

But Morse pounded away at the power provision, calling it a "give-away to private monopoly."

There seemed scant prospect of any final vote before late in the day at the earliest. Sens. Gore and Hill (D-Ala) were definitely set to follow Morse with speeches. Others were expected also to want the floor.

Tempers Wear Thin

This longest Senate session of the year, coming on top of other overtime meetings during the past week, frayed tempers. There were several sharp exchanges.

But Republican Leader Knowland of California called for an around-the-clock schedule, until the bill is passed, to break what he termed a filibuster against the Eisenhower legislative program. He is aiming for adjournment of Congress a week from Saturday.

What had been the main talking point on the bill to revise the Atomic Energy Act was disposed

Knowland Says Farm Bill Next

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opposing leaders agreed today the Senate battle over farm legislation may be settled in two or three days of debate.

Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) has tagged the farm bill as the next major item of business for the adjournment-bound Senate, following action on a bill to revise the Atomic Energy Act.

Early today, however, Knowland spoke of holding off the farm measure until the Senate takes up a bill to authorize $3,100,000,000 in foreign aid.

"I'm pretty certain we can finish it in three days or less unless some one decided to filibuster," Knowland said in an interview.

Wins Over 46

South Carolina Coed, 21, Selected as 'Miss U.S.A.'

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Miss South Carolina, a Dixie coed who is all woman, today is the new Miss U.S.A.

Miriam Stevenson, 21-year-old college senior from Winnsboro, S. C., won last night over 46 other entrants for the title which will pit her against 32 foreign beauties for the Miss Universe crown.

Miss Stevenson's first words to newspapermen after she won were: "I cain't believe it."

Asked if she knew she would have to lose her southern accent now that she has won a movie contract with Universal-International Studio, she answered: "Sho nuff"

Of voluptuous build, the wholesome-looking winner has perfect measurements: 36-inch bust and hips and 24-inch waist. Her 120 pounds are well distributed over a 5-foot-6 frame.

She had come here without luggage except for an evening gown which she had designed herself and a bathing suit which contest officials gave her. That was all she needed.

Her luggage, lost on an airliner that brought her here last week hasn't caught up with her yet.

She scored heavily in the bathing suit and evening gown competitions but it was her naturalness and humor in the poise and personality talk that won her the judges' nod.

Contestants were asked to give a brief speech on "the most important thing in my life." Miss South Carolina brought down the house when she told the big crowd at Municipal Auditorium that the most important thing in "mah life was to get mah luggage back."

County Departments Ask $668,850 for Operation

Budget requests totaling $668,850 from the general fund, asked by Marion County departments for 1955 operation, were approved this morning by county commissioners. Actual appropriations will be made in January after the county auditor prepares a report on anticipated revenue.

The $668,850 request for 1955 compares with the $630,427 requested for 1954 operation, and the actual appropriation of $572,642 for 1954 operation.

ACTUAL EXPENSES of the county departments in 1953 totalled $540,303, while in 1952 the costs were $556,791.

The largest single request for 1955 operation is $52,000 for tuberculosis hospitalization and care. Appropriated for 1954 for this matter was $43,168, while actual cost in 1953 was $43,095, and in 1952, $50,360.

A sizable increase in requests for operating money over what was appropriated for 1954 came from the Board of Elections, which asked $37,900. For 1954 commissioners appropriated $28,300, with $38,900 requested, while actual costs in 1953 amounted to $24,254, and in 1952, $27,222.

Election board say they will need more money because of the proposed addition of several new precincts during 1955.

REQUESTS OF other departments for 1955 operation, with amounts appropriated by county commissioners for 1954 operation, are as follows:

County commissioners, $18,057

Let's Explore Ohio

Visitors from all over the world have journeyed to Ohio to inspect Serpent Mound near Locust Grove recognized as the largest prehistoric effigy mound built by the ancient inhabitants of the Ohio Country Built of earth this snake-like mound curls along a hilltop for 1 330 feet In the 60-acre memorial park maintained by the Ohio Historical Society are excellent picnic facilities set amid scenic gorge formations. This mound seems to have served some religious purpose for the 'Moundbuilders" Ohio has upwards of 10 000 mounds and fortifications built by the ancient Indians who populated all of the river valleys in the Ohio River watershed

Ex-Marionite, Polio Victim, 'Strikes It Rich'

Marion friends viewing television last night were treated to a pleasant surprise when a former resident won $500 on the program "Strike It Rich" She was Mrs. Lessie Mae Beam, victim of polio.

She was unable to appear on the program and her "stand-in" was the nationally-known health enthusiast, Bernarr McFadden.

Mrs. Beam is living now in San Antonio, Tex. For some time she was confined to an iron lung and is now being cared for at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kelley.

In Marion she and her son, Michael Arthur, lived for a time with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beam at 365 E. Center St., parents of her husband George A. Beam, who was attending Ohio State University. Leaving here for San Antonio in February, 1949, Mrs. Beam was stricken with polio in June the following year. She was treated at a hospital there, then at the Jefferson Davis Polio Hospital at Houston, Tex., until October, 1951, then was returned to San Antonio. Though almost completely paralyzed, with exception of ability to move her head, she can be moved from her room to an outdoor patio which is being built, and it is for this project that the television prize money will be used.

Known as a talented vocalist, she was a member of the Lecture-Recital Club chorus in Marion and was in Epworth Methodist Church Choir, and was a member of Wesleyan Service Guild. She sang on radio programs over local station, WMRN, and W R F D, Worthington, and WHKC, Columbus. At San Antonio, her home town, she was a soloist at Travis Park Methodist Church. Greatly interested in her welfare, the church people there have had her room at home air conditioned, and are backing the project of making the patio an "outdoor room for her comfort. Marion relatives are aiding with this also.

Mr. and Mrs. Beam were married in San Antonio in August, 1946, before coming to Marion, and their young son is now 7.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

A. Fred Hermann

BUCYRUS — A. Fred Hermann, 70, died at 6:40 p.m. Wednesday at his home near Bucyrus. He had suffered from a heart ailment for the past two years.

Born Oct. 23, 1883, in St. Louis, Mo., he was the son of Joseph and Mary Kalb Hermann. He was married Nov. 3, 1906, to Blanche M. Beehner, who survives. Also surviving are: one son, Alvin A. of Kensington, Md.; three daughters, Mrs. Ruth Redman, Miss Dorothy Hermann and Mrs. Mary Stockard, all of Washington, D.C.; a half-brother, Herman Steck of Toledo; a half-sister, Mrs. Carrie Barton of Toledo; and three grandchildren.

He came to Bucyrus in 1903 from Toledo. He was employed as a machinist from 1906-1917 at the W. A. Riddell Corp. here and from 1917-1948 he was employed in the machine shop for the New York Central Raiload here. He retired in 1948. He was a member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Wise Funeral Home with Elder D. S. Thurston officiating. Burial will be at Oakwood Cemetery here. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Linda Francene Sutton

GALION—Funeral services were held this afternoon in the Snyder Funeral Home for Linda Francene Sutton, two-month-old daughter of Francis L. and Margaret I. Jones Sutton. Elder Wylie Fowler, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, had charge of services, and burial was in Fairview Cemetery. The baby is believed to have died from suffocation induced by regurgitation.

The baby was born in Galion, May 14, 1954, and is survived by the parents; two sisters, Margaret Dian, at home; and Frances Ann; and a brother, James Lucian Sutton, of Shelbyville, Tenn. Grandparents living are Mrs. Matilda Sutton of Galion and Mr. and Mrs. Dow Jones of Grandview, Ind.

-Funeral Services-

Mrs. Martha B. Green — Tomorrow 2:30 p.m., Winter-Milligan Funeral Chapel, Richwood, Rev. Evangeline Smith, burial Hopewell Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

William Fox, Crawford Farmer, Dies of Wound

BUCYRUS — William J. Fox, 64, of northwest of Tiro in Crawford County, fatally shot himself Wednesday afternoon at his farm.

Crawford County coroner, Dr B. P. Mansfield, returned a verdict of suicide. He said Fox had shot himself through the brain with a 22 caliber rifle about 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Fox' body was found at the edge of a lane on his farm about 2:15 p.m. Wednesday by his nephew, Weldon Crabaugh, who lives nearby. Crabaugh called Dr. K. H. Barth of New Washington, but Fox was dead when the physician arrived.

A complaint had been filed this week against Fox in Crawford County Juvenile Court here charging that he acted in a way tending to cause the delinquency of a 17-year-old girl. The case had been scheduled for hearing next Wednesday morning before Juvenile Judge Constance Keller.

Born Jan. 23, 1890, in Auburn Township, Crawford County, he was a lifelong farmer. His parents were Josephy and Barbara Light Fox. He was married on April 6, 1912, to Anna Quigg, who died two weeks ago. Surviving are: three brothers, Charles L. and Proctor, both of Plymouth, and Agie, address unknown; and three sisters, Mrs. Susie Maher of Toledo, Mrs. Emma Steel of near Crestline and Mrs. Bessie Jones of Fostoria.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Wise Funeral Home here with Rev. Merlin Vining officiating. Burial will be a Goodwill Cemetery, near New Washington. Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

MURDER CHARGE SET

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (AP)—Murder charges will be considered here July 28 against William E. Rudd, 37, of San Francisco and Winslow, Ariz. He is accused of slaying the wife of his best friend, James Edward Davis, 22, of Akron, Ohio. Both are Navy men. The grand jury was called into special session in the case. The wife, Iona Josephine, 22, was beaten to death last April 3.

Wyandot County Native Dies at Tiffin Hospital

UPPER SANDUSKY — Funeral services for Harry Agerter, 50-year-old native of Wyandot County who died at 9:50 a.m. Tuesday in Tiffin Mercy Hospital, will be conducted Friday from the Hoffman Memorial in Tiffin at 2 p.m. Rev. Wayne O. Kantner, pastor of the First English Lutheran Church in Tiffin, will officiate. Burial will be made in the cemetery of the Salem EUB Church, east of Upper Sandusky.

Mr. Agerter had resided in Tiffin about 30 years, going there from Wyandot County. His wife, Idella M. Strausbaugh Agerter preceded him in death in 1952.

One sister, Mrs. Minnie Shaffer of Wyandot County is listed among survivors.

Indians-Bosox Replay Slated Today in Double Bill

Feller and Lemon Selected For Mound; Teams Tie 7-7

BOSTON (AP)—Cleveland's Indians played 24 innings against the Boston Red Sox in two games that ended yesterday, without reaching a decision.

The two teams battled through 16 innings that finished in a 5-5 deadlock at 12:57 yesterday morning, and in the afternoon, they were tied at 7-7 when the game was called in the ninth inning because of rain.

Holding first place by a scant four percentage points after the first contest, the Indians are now 21 percentage points and half a game up on the New York Yankees, who lost 15-3 to Chicago yesterday.

The 16-inning marathon was stopped in compliance with a league curfew law which provides that no inning may start after 12:50 a.m., and the game must end by 1 a.m. in any case.

When a heavy downpour caused umpires to call time in the ninth inning of the afternoon affair, Larry Doby had walked and Al Rosen was at bat with one out.

Boston tallied six runs in less than three innings against Art Houtteman, who yielded eight hits before he was relieved by Dave Hoskins.

In the Indians' fourth, after Vic Wertz singled in a run, Jim Hegan blasted a three-run homer that made the score 6-4.

Then Larry Doby, in the next inning, smacked his 17th homer of the season with Bob Avila aboard, and the next man at bat, Al Rosen, also hit his 17th home run, to put the Indians ahead.

Boston's tying run was scored at Hoskins' expense in the sixth. Ted Williams, who had walloped his 13th homer of the season in the third hit a double after Jim Piersall had singled. Then Harry Agganis grounded out, Piersall scoring.

Bob Lemon seeks his 10th victory in the opener today, and Bob Feller will seek his seventh in the nightcap. The double bill makes up for one of the games tied yesterday. The other is scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 29.

Branca Seeks Pitching Berth With Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn faithful who cried with Ralph Branca when he threw that never-to-be forgotten pitch that Bob Thomson whacked for a pennant-winning home run three years ago, may see their former idol wearing the hated uniform of the New York Giants.

The former Dodger fireballer, who recently was released by the Detroit Tigers, has received an offer from the Giants to pitch for their Minneapolis farm club in the American Association. Branca is holding the offer under advisement with the hope that he can catch on with a big league club.

Branca currently is working out with the New York Yankees. Only 28, the native New Yorker hopes to convince either the Yankees' or Giants' brass that he still can pitch winning baseball in the major leagues.

"The Giants were kind enough to offer me a spot with Minneapolis," the big righthander said, "and believe me, I appreciate their offer. But I hope to convince them that I can still pitch in the majors. I'd like an opportunity to pitch for one of the New York clubs.

"I'm still young and my arm is as strong as it ever was. All I lack right now is control. I'm sure I can correct that with enough work."

Moore Doubts Stanky Pledge For Reforming

MILWAUKEE (AP)—There seemed to be some doubt in the mind of Philadelphia Phillies' manager Terry Moore last night about the sincerity of the sugar-and-cream apology made the other day by manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"He said the same thing in 1952, right after he got the job, but the reform didn't last long," said Moore, who was involved in the fracas last Sunday at Busch Stadium in St. Louis. Moore, a Cardinal coach in '52, was released a short time later by Stanky and the two haven't been exactly friendly since then.

Moore chuckled when someone mentioned that the Cardinals had beaten the Phillies, 5-1, Monday night under the direction of coach Johnny Riddle while Stanky was under suspension.

"Yeah," said Moore, "and things were a lot different in the dugout the boys tell me. Why, they said some of the Cardinals were even smiling and I heard somebody say it was too bad Stanky didn't get the whole season off."

Moore went on to explain that under Stanky there is strict discipline in the Cardinal dugout during games, with no conversation permitted and players ordered to look straight ahead at the field at all times.

"He used to have a system of fines," Moore went on. "I think it cost you a dollar if you took your cap off like this," and he put his cap on his knee. "There were a lot of others, too."

Birds, Millers Rap Nine Circuit Blasts

By The Associated Press

It's quite understandable if American Association pitchers resting up in Toledo and Columbus today are a bit dizzy. Games in those cities last night produced a total of 14 home runs.

There were nine smashes out of the Columbus park as Minneapolis swept a doubleheader, 3-1 and 22-8, to take undisputed possession of fifth place, for which the two clubs had been tied.

Eight of them came in the high-scoring nightcap, with Ebba St. Claire of the Millers and Gerry Thomas of Columbus getting three apiece. George Wilson also homered for Minneapolis, and Les Pinkham socked a four-bagger for the Red Birds. Harris homered for Minneapolis in the opener.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Pete Hendy, publicity chief for the Marion Barons, is as wrapped up in the major league pennant race as any baseball fans, but he'll switch to next winter's hockey season at the drop of a hat.

SHORT

The Barons will open training camp in September at St. Thomas, Ontario, and Hendy sees nothing but a bright future for Ott Heller's second venture in the IHL.

The Barons will open training with the parent Cleveland Barons and Pete reports they will have a "wealth of Canada's top rookies" to choose from. Baron brass is expecting at least 12 outstanding performers from last year's junior ranks to try out.

IHL ROSTERS are limited to 14 players so there should be more than enough young performers to add spice to the know-how of veterans like Heller, Lou Crowdis, Steve Brklacich, Phil Vitale, Wimpy Jones, Kenny Schultz and other returnees.

Pete reports many of the youngsters have been compared with Hal Jones, Jerry Prince, Gordon Vejprava and the youthful Barons last year. Those skaters had been in the Canadian junior ranks only the year before.

Among the newcomers to try for spots in the Baron chain will be a brother act, according to Pete, Gordon Straten, 19, and Art Straten, 18, both played at Winnepeg last winter. Playing out of the forward spots, the brothers are anxious to move into the Baron chain. Cleland Martsen, 20, of the Barrie Flyers is another outstanding candidate for a front line post.

MARTSEN AND the Straten brothers were highly-regarded last year and were called to Cleveland where they were given a careful study. Marsten was in three games for the big city Barons and the brothers appeared in one.

The youngsters attend the Baron training camp only on invitation from the scouting system. Another of the top prospects will be Defenseman Ian Cushenan, who last year led his St. Catherine team to the junior championship.

Legal Ace Winner In Hilliards Event

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legal Ace, owned by Harry Distlehorst of Columbus, won the feature event at Hilliards Raceway last night. His time was 2:07.2 for the mile. The 4-year-old brown gelding paid $9.60.

Bill Current of Wilmington, leading driver of the meet, kept his lead as he drove Sweet Talk to victory in the fourth. He also had two seconds with Judy Jewell in the third and Thunder On in the featured seventh. He's won 33 out of 59 starts.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Carl Erskine, Brooklyn Dodgers, retired the last 23 men in order and gave up only two hits while striking out 10 as Brooklyn beat Cincinnati 5-1.

Batting — Minnie Minoso and Johnny Groth, Chicago White Sox, each collected four hits in Chicago's 15-3 rout of the New York Yankees.

Rayle To Fill Coaching Vacancy at Sycamore

SYCAMORE — Eugene Rayle has accepted the position as athletic coach and science teacher in the Sycamore School to succeed H. E. Roberson who resigned to become head basketball coach in the Anthony Wayne School near Toledo.

Rayle graduated from Findlay College and received his master's degree from Bowling Green State University. His first coaching position was at Salem in Wyandot County and later at Rawson and Columbus Grove. He gave up coaching to become the superintendent of the Lykens School in Crawford County where he served several years. For the past three years he has been connected with the Balliet Drug Store in Sycamore. He, with his wife and small daughter, resides in Sycamore.

With the filling of this teaching position the faculty at Sycamore is complete.

Run Famine Slows Reds, Brooks Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — It's tough to win in baseball when you're on a one-run-a-game diet.

If you don't think so, just ask Manager Birdie Tebbetts and his Cincinnati Redlegs. That's the meager run-scoring they have done for four straight games and they have lost three of them.

Last night it was Carl Erskine who limited the Reds to a single tally as the Brooklyn Dodgers took a 5-1 decision.

In the three previous games against New York, the Giants won 3-1; the Reds won 1-0 and the Giants won again 2-1.

All three of Cincinnati's last three runs have been solo homers with Hobie Landrith, Ted Kluszewski then Bob Borkowski last night being the only Cincinnatians to score in 34 innings. The team now has four runs to show for 43 innings of work and there have been 24 hits over that same distance.

Erskine was downright brutal to the Rhinelanders last night.

The Anderson, Ind., righthander gave up a double to Roy McMillan in the first inning and the home run to Borkowski with one out in the second. He then retired the next 23 batters in order.

Erskine also fanned ten in his winning effort.

The victory was doubly pleasant for the Dodgers in that they finally licked Bud Podbielan, one of their pitching castoffs, who had beaten them three times this season.

Podbielan was no puzzle to the Brooks last night. He allowed at least one hit in every inning and finally was knocked out in the ninth when doubles by Junior Gilliam and Duke Snider and a single by Carl Furillo scored the final two Brooklyn runs.

Struggles for First Division Berths Enliven Flag Chases

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

By now only five teams have serious ideas about reaching the World Series this fall but a whole hatful of others in both leagues are still scrapping to see who will help cut up the swag.

Players on the first four teams in each league share in the World Series receipts.

It's generally conceded among all but the diehards that either the New York Giants or Brooklyn will be the National League representative against Cleveland, the New York Yankees, or the Chicago White Sox.

But a check of the standings shows dog fights in both circuits immediately below these private pennant races.

In the National League four teams are bunched a game and a half apart from third through sixth place. Philadelphia holds third by a percentage point over Cincinnati and Milwaukee with St. Louis still a big factor.

The American league is running with a five-team "second division." Fourth place Detroit is a fat 22 lengths out of the lead and 17½ behind the third place White Sox. But the Tigers hold only a single game edge over Boston and Washington and just eight games separate them from the tailend Baltimore Orioles.

In the upper brackets yesterday Cleveland took a half game lead over New York when the Yanks crumbled before Chicago 15-3 while the Indians were playing their second straight tie in Boston. Rain halted the 7-7 contest in the top of the ninth inning.

The Giants maintained their seven game advantage over Brooklyn with a 2-1 triumph at Chicago. The Dodgers tripped Cincinnati 5-1.

St. Louis outscored Pittsburgh 13-12. Philadelphia defeated Milwaukee 6-1 and Washington shaded Baltimore 6-5 in other action.

Brooklyn's Carl Erskine turned in the outstanding pitching performance, retiring the last 23 Cincinnati batters in order after Bob Borkowski homered in the second inning. He got plenty of support for a change with Carl Furillo's five-hit splurge leading the 15 hit attack. Erskine gave up two hits and struck out 10.

A pinch single by Bill Taylor drove in the winning Giant run in the ninth inning at Chicago. He scored Hank Thompson who had singled and moved around on a sacrifice and an infield out. Sal Maglie checked the Cubs on four hits.

The White Sox scored early and often against the Yankees, opening with five runs in the first and closing but with five in the ninth. Minnie Minoso and Johnny Groth collected four hits each. Virgil Trucks stayed long enough to become the first American League pitcher to win 13 games but he wilted from the heat in the seventh and needed help from Morrie Martin and Harry Dorish.

Home runs by Jim Hegan, Al Rosen and Larry Doby lifted Cleveland from a 6-0 deficit into a 7-6 lead at Boston but the Red Sox pushed across the tying run in the sixth and kept it that way until rain intervened. The same two teams played a 17 inning tie Tuesday night.

Only five Milwaukee batters got on base against Robin Roberts and the only run off the Phils' ace was Eddie Mathews' 22nd home run, hit with two out and the bases empty in the ninth.

Pitchers wore out the grass between the bullpens and the mound in Busch Stadium during the Cards-Pirates' 31 hit duel. St. Louis used eight, equalling the National League record. Pittsburgh used five hurlers.

Snead, Oliver Successful In PGA Qualifying Play

ST. PAUL (AP) — Sam Snead, maneuvering with a sharp list to starboard and a grouchy look that was the natural result of a stiff neck, had to climb a tree on the 15th hole to make a reasonably good score in the first qualifying round of the 36th PGA championship.

Ed "Porky" Oliver, suffering from a painful kidney ailment that has forced him to drop out of several recent tournaments, holed putts from all over the course for a five-under-par 66.

And 28 players shot 71 or better over the barren, un-hardened Keller course to turn the opening round of the nation's toughest test of professional golf into a race against par for the 64 available places in the match play bracket.

That was the story as 135 of America's leading pro golfers headed into today's qualifying second round of the PGA tournament with the prospect that a 36-hole total of 146 or better would be needed to get into the showdown stage of match play, starting tomorrow.

Snead's "shot" from a post oak tree was the high spot of the opening round in which the pros took Keller's par of 36-35—71 to pieces, just as had been predicted.

The West Virginia walloper, suffering from a recurrence of the stiffness in his neck that plagued him all through the Open championship, almost pulled out of the tournament. But he decided to give it a try and until he hit the 225-yard 15th, Snead was doing very well.

There his tee shot drifted and the ball lodged in the fork of a tree, some 15 feet above the ground. Sammy, stiff neck and all, had to go up there after it. He knocked it out and got a five on the par three hole for a creditable score of 35-38—73.

The real business of the tournament begins tomorrow when 64 golfers buckle down to head-to-head matches. There'll be two rounds of 18 hole duels Friday.

Two strokes behind Oliver were a trio of tournament toughened players: Cary Middlecoff, the 1949 U.S. Open champion; gnarled Johnny Revolta, a 43-year-old veteran who is rated as one of the nation's top teaching pros, and 47-year-old Orville White of Aiken, S.C.

Fishing Scene Poor Through Most of State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fishing conditions have been fairly poor throughout the state recently and are not expected to improve during the next few days, says the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Conditions by districts:

NORTHWESTERN — Fishing success has been local during the past week. Some bass, bluegills and catfish are being caught in East Harbor. Walleye season is getting into full swing.

EAST CENTRAL, SOUTHEASTERN — Burr Oak Lake is muddy and six inches above normal level, and practically every stream in this area is too muddy to offer any fishing for the weekend. Some bass and catfish are being caught in Piedmont Lake, but Seneca Lake is high and muddy. The fishing outlook is not favorable for the next few days.

CENTRAL, SOUTHERN — Here again the fishing outlook is poor. Streams are muddy and only a few lakes are clear. Lake Vesuvius is clear, and Pike Lake and Lake White are roily, but may be clear enough to fish this weekend.

Jones Going for Third Straight Richwood Event

J. L. Jones of Richwood will be out after his third straight feature win tonight at the Richwood Speedway tonight. Tonight's session will be for strictly stock cars. Rain washed out a scheduled racing program Tuesday night.

Six races of 10-laps each are slated as well as a 25-lap feature event. The Speedway is located at the Richwood Fairgrounds with the first event slated to get under way at 8:30.

Rush and Brewer Lead Moundsmen in Batting

NEW YORK (AP) — National League pitchers are in no great hurry to throw to Bob Rush of the Chicago Cubs this season.

Rush, a husky righthander, is the top batter among major league pitchers with a .370 average, figures compiled by The Associated Press revealed today.

In the American League, rookie Tom Brewer of the Boston Red Sox has the highest percentage, .207 on 11 hits in 37 trips.

SOFTBALL PLAY POSTPONED

Wet grounds at Garfield Park forced postponement of Industrial League No. 2 games last night.

Leakey Takes Archery Title In Local Shoot

Paul Leakey of 464 Summit St. was winner of the annual field championship meet of the Marion Black Feather Bowmen.

Leakey posted the best score of archers firing 448 arrows at 112 targets in a meet Sunday at Camp Owens for the win.

Charles L. Baker of near Marion placed second while Don Inskeep of East Liberty came in third.

The top three archers shot heavy hunting bows of weights of 55, 60 and 63 pounds respectively.

Members of the local archery club are preparing the field range for the approaching invitational meet Aug. 15 when archers from all over Ohio will be invited to a bare bow meet consisting of 50 targets.

Pop-up targets and moving targets will be installed. Some 35 clubs and other single archers are being sent invitations and it is hoped the attendance will reach between 100 and 150.

Inter-club meets will continue for the next three weeks prior to the invitational meet while work continues to better the course.

The Black Feather Bowmen have received their charter with the National Field Archery Association, mother-organization of the field and hunting archers. Over 60 per cent of the Black Feather Bowmen are members and most have received a small or bit game award from that group.

Marion Legion Nine Preps for Tourney Finals

Action in the sixth district Junior American Legion baseball tournament resumes Saturday at Lincoln Park following play last weekend.

Marion's Bird-McGinnis nine and Newark will be tangling in the tournament finals at 10 a.m.

The tourney winner will represent the sixth district in the state Legion tournament in Columbus the last of this month.

The event is a double elimination affair. The locals have already lost one tilt. The tournament opened last Saturday with Newark edging Morrow County 9-8 and Marion blanking Marysville 10-0 on 13 hits and a four-hitter by Bob Bachman.

Marion was handed an 8-7 defeat by Newark in a hard fought battle in Sunday action but returned that afternoon to eliminate Morrow County as Larry Geissler held them under control. Tex Burns, Bob Rogers, Bob Stauffer and Geissler again provided the Marion nine with his plate power.

Crawford County Coon Hunters Schedule Field Trials Sunday

GALION — A highlight on the calendar for sportsmen of this area will be the annual mid-summer 'Field Trial Classic" Sunday sponsored by the Crawford County Coon Hunters Association.

The site for the event is the Schott Brothers farm on County Road 19, State Route 294, six miles south of Bucyrus, on State Route 98. This is nine miles southwest of Galion and 12 miles northeast of Marion.

R. W. Stall of Galion president of the association, said today that the association has made plans for a large entry of dogs, and indications are that the canines will be there from all parts of Ohio to enter and compete for a share of the guaranteed purse.

Stall said the trial is sponsored for the purpose of raising funds for re-stocking and feeding of wild game throughout the area.

The Crawford County organization, he said has a fine record for restocking game. The group strives to make better "sportsmen" and to create a better feeling and understanding between farmers and sportsmen.

On April 10 the association released over $700 worth of matured pheasants in groups of four hens and one cock and also purchased about 20 extra cocks and released them throughout the area where it was reported there were hens and no cock birds. From all reports received Stall said, results are satisfactory. The association also has an order placed now for a repeat on matured pheasants for 1955 in April.

Stall said the association had 24 dozen Kansas rabbits ordered last spring but that owing to the heavy snowfall they were unable to get them trapped. This order will be placed again next year, he said.

Activities for the field trial will start about 11 or 12 a.m. and last throughout the afternoon. Lunch and refreshments will be served on the grounds. The trial will be held, rain or shine, Stall said.

Struggle

The Athletics' victory over Detroit broke a 10-game losing streak. Sonny Dixon tamed the Tigers and Joe DeMaestri, Lou Limmer and Jim Finegan hit home runs for the winners.

Washington wasted an early lead against Baltimore, then won in the ninth when an easy roller dribbled through Jim Brideweser's legs with the bases loaded and one out. The loss was another heartbreaker for Don Larsen, who now has lost a dozen games.

Cleveland's Thompson To Quit Gridiron Action

CLEVELAND (AP) — White-haired Tommy Thompson, a sparkplug of the Cleveland Browns defense for the past five seasons, has decided to retire.

The ace line backer and team captain on defense suffered a knee injury in Pittsburgh last Nov. 22 during a game with the Steelers and was out of action the last three games and the championship contest.

That knee injury, combined with an opportunity to manage a stock brokerage firm in Norfolk, Va., his hometown, influenced the 27-year-old Thompson to call it quits.

NAMED AT JOHN CARROLL

CLEVELAND (AP)—John Carroll University yesterday named Carl Torch, 30, assistant football and basketball coach. A Miami University graduate, Torch had coached in high schools at Twinsburg and Girard, Pa. before moving to St. Joseph High School here two years ago as basketball coach. At Carroll he replaces Fred George, who resigned.

Try Carling's Red Cap Ale

...and see!

At Carling's we brew both beer and ale—and each is mighty popular. But more and more people are telling us Carling's Red Cap Ale gives them more pleasure than any beer they ever tasted. They say it's light and dry as the smoothest beer, yet with that extra flavor—that "heart" which only a fine ale can provide! They call it the "light-hearted" ale.

Tonight, why not try it? See whether you are one of those who find Carling's Red Cap Ale tastes even better than beer!

Grass Roots Poll Taken

Editors See GOP Edge in Fall Elections

What's really happening at the grass roots level that the nation's politicians and pundits talk—and worry—so much about? To find out, Mason Rossiter Smith, himself a "country editor," decided to tap the main source of grass roots opinion, the weekly newspapers, which cover the areas where 56 per cent of the American people live. Polling a carefully selected sample of weekly editors in all sections of the country, he came up with this cross-section report on partisan prospects in the fall congressional elections.

By MASON ROSSITER SMITH
North American Newspaper Alliance

The Republican party should retain and possibly increase its presently slim majorities in the Congress—if next November's elections confirm state and local predictions of 56 carefully selected editors of weekly newspapers published in rural areas of the United States.

Forty-two of the 56 think their own districts and their own states will elect about the same number of Republicans and Democrats as now hold office in Senate and House.

A few others foresee slight gains for one party or the other.

Strangely enough, when it come to "guesstimating" the probable result nationally, only 25 are prepared to express a positive opinion. Of these, nine think the GOP will remain in power or perhaps increase its margins, while 16 expect the Democrats to take over.

Even these 25 tend to qualify their predictions heavily.

Nearly all 56 testify to President Eisenhower's wide personal popularity — suggesting that if "Ike" himself were to take to the hustings, a Republican victory would be assured.

Regionally, the editors' predictions follow the general voting pattern of 1952, with the exception of the Deep South.

ASIDE FROM A heated senatorial contest in Oregon, weekly editors predict a Republican sweep in the West Coast states. The Rocky Mountain area is expected to return about the same number of Republicans and Democrats this year—with relatively few changes in party strength.

The South and Southwest were predicted as set to remain traditionally Democrat despite President Eisenhower's personal popularity. The East and Midwest appear to be pretty solidly Republican, according to the editors.

Yet many a country editor, regardless of political affiliation, is keeping his fingers crossed. George Murphy Jr., editor of the Manteca, Calif., Bulletin, for example, observes that "I would predict that our local (congress and state senator) and state-wide offices will go Republican, but only by very narrow margins."

"Oregon," says Editor Tom W. Gerber of the Canby Herald, "probably will send four Republican representatives to Congress in November as usual, but with considerably more difficulty in at least one district. . . U. S. Sen. Guy Cordon (R) may be defeated by Richard L. Neuberger (D), state senator and writer for national magazines . . . in oregon's key contest."

WILLIAM R. LEWIS, editor of the Lynden, Wash., Tribune, believes that "the Republicans will carry again, although the strength of the opposition is not apparent at this time."

Writing from the Rocky Mountain region, Editor Maurice W. Leckenby of the Steamboat Springs, Colo., Pilot, thinks "Colorado will follow its usual pattern of electing two Democrats and two Republicans to Congress." Idaho, which now sends one Democrat and one Republican to Congress, may possibly sent two Republicans next year, according to Editor Lew Papes of the St.Maries Gazette-Record. But the GOP could lose a seat in Nevada—the Sagebrush State's sole congressman—according to Editor Warren L. Monroe of the Elko Independent. His prediction:

"There is a lot of talk about a swing back to the Democratic party at this election and if this swing develops more fully between now and November, it may see Nevada's lone representative changed to Democratic."

In the Southwest, "New Mexico will go Democratic," in the opinion of Carter Waid, editor of the Belen News-Bulletin, "and probably by a fairly safe margin." H. Merle Woods, editor of the El Reno, Okla., American, doesn't foresee "any possibility of change in the lineup of Congress as far as Oklahoma is concerned." And writing from the citrus country of Texas, Editor Joe T. Cook of the Mission Times states confidently that "of course a Democrat will be elected from our 15th. Texas Congressional District . . . we Texans are Democrats, but the returns will reflect that in 1952 we were 'Democrats for Eisenhower'."

IN THE MIDDLE WEST, Editor Verle V. Kramer of the Gibson City, Ill., Courier predicts his state "will send about the same delegation as now, although there is a chance for the Republicans to pick up two seats."

In the Senate contest, Kramer believes, Republican Joseph T. Meek has a very good chance of defeating Sen. Paul Douglas, Democratic incumbent.

"In the country as a whole, I believe President Eisenhower has retained his popularity and could win easily, Kramer writes. "Whether he can influence the choice of a Congress, I'm not sure. The Republican party is not as popular as the President."

Nebraska Democrats, according to Stuart J. Bohacek, editor of the Wilber Republican, "size up the situation accurately, when they say 'Now or never'."—and they may pick up two of the state's four normally Republican congressional seats.

Pointing out that North Dakota "voted 71 per cent Republican two years ago and is traditionally strong Republican," Editor Ed Doherty of the Killdeer Herald expects "that condition to prevail in 1954."

"I'm still convinced the Republicans have a program that can and will be sold to the people in time to salvage Congress," Doherty added.

Meanwhile, Editor L. L. Coleman of the Mobridge, S. D., Tribune looks for "South Dakota's Republican Senator (Karl) Mundt and Representatives Harold Lovre and E. Y. Berry all to be re-elected in a breeze." But, nationally, Coleman expects "the Republicans to slip a little. . . in this part of the country," he observes, "the Republican cause is on the downgrade as a result of the combination of dissatisfaction with Indochina, Korea, recession and the farm program, plus the Army-McCarthy Fiasco. Locally thumbs are down more on the McCarthy mess than on any single point, including points of order."

IN MICHIGAN, Editor Romaine McCall of the Gratiot County Herald, Ithaca, thinks his state's "representation in Congress will be about the same as now." Nationally, McCall believes, "if Eisenhower can unite his party in support of his program, and if the national economy is on the up-trend by November, the Republicans could increase representation. A down-trend in the national economy by November will lose control for Republicans."

Reporting from the East, Editor Mel Sonte of the Rumford, Me., Falls Times says that "Maine will re-elect its three Republican Congressmen — no doubt about it." But from the nationwide view, he's not so sanguine. "I predict," Stone writes, "that the democrats will pick up around 20 seats in November, giving them control of Congress.

"The nation has most certainly become disgusted with the Army-McCarthy feud and the feeling is growing that Eisenhower is not exercising the dynamic leadership expected."

John F. Quigley, editor of the Union County Standard Journal, Lewisburg, Pa., foresees "Republican victories in Pennsylvania. . . , in the U.S. generally, I should predict slight Democratic gains..."

Curtis H. Mullen, editor of the Madison County Herald at Canton, Miss., sums up the situation pretty well for most of the South, when he observes for his own state that "Mississippi being Democratic thoughout, there is no speculation as to congressional elections."

Florida, writes Editor Loyal Frisbie of the Polk County Democrat at Bartow, "is safely Democratic—as always." "This congressional district," declares Jack Rider, editor of the Lenoir County News, Kinston, N. C., "is now, has been and will be Democratic for a long time to come."

As far as Louisiana is concerned, "chances of a Republican making even a fair showing are slim," in the opinion of Kenneth J. Walker, editor of the Colfax Chronicle.

"If the administration would check the farm belt," says Wheeler Mayo, editor of the Sequoyah County Times, Sallisaw, Okla., "they would learn that the popularity they feel exists for our president is a fallacy."

But many of the editors polled this week seem to share the sentiments of Editor Glenn Babb of the Bedford, Va., Democrat, in this excerpt from a recent editorial: "it is unfortunate that President Eisenhower has spent so much time and patience and his great gift of conciliation in an effort to keep the Republican party united and an effective instrument of politics and administration. He owes the party nothing, it is greatly in his debt.

"It will take something of a political miracle to keep the Democrats from winning control of one house of Congress in November. But the fact remains that most of the nation still looks to Dwight D. Eisenhower now, as in 1952, for leadership that will show the way out of the mess that persists in Washington."

Youth Sought Near Lebanon

Disappears While Swimming in River

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Search was to be resumed today for Bob Jones, 16, of Kings Mills, who disappeared yesterday while floating on an inner tube in the flood swollen Little Miami River.

Cries for help by Jones and two young companions resulted in the rescue of the other two boys and two Cincinnati fishermen from an island. The fishermen had been marooned on the island throughout Tuesday night and had escaped drowning by clinging to branches of trees.

The Little Miami rose swiftly after a heavy storm Tuesday night.

Winton Allen, 15, of South Lebanon and Joe Greer, 16, of Kings Mills were floating with Jones when he disappeared. They managed to get to the nearby island.

Sheriff Richard Satterthwaite, called by Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, who had heard the cries of the boys, found them along with the Cincinnatians—Armand Busan, 39, and Albert Routh, 36.

Marion Man Hurt in Mishap

Pedestrian Struck At Main and Center

An elderly Marion pedestrian was slightly injured in one of four traffic accidents reported today by city police. Sheriff's deputies reported one minor, no injury accident and the state highway patrol reported no accidents on county highways.

Mathias Ginder, 77, of 340 Park Blvd. suffered a bruised left leg and arm when struck by a car just south of Center St. on S. Main St. at 1:25 p.m. Wednesday. He stepped out from behind another car into the path of one driven by John E. Kuntz of 458 Ballentine Ave., police reported. He was taken to Smith Clinic for treatment of his injuries.

The remaining three collisions in the city each involved less than $100 total damage.

Auto Runs Into Ditch

A one-car accident which happened Tuesday night was reported today by sheriff's deputies. It happened at 10:25 p.m. Tuesday at the point where County Road 58 deadends at County Road 101.

Deputies report a car driven west on Road 58 by Kenneth A. Cook, 22, of near Ashley failed to stop or turn at the deadend and went into a ditch. Cook escaped injury but the right front and right side of his car were damaged.

Famous Landmark Goes Before Wrecking Crews

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y. (UP)—Another landmark settled into dust this spring when wrecking crews tore down 73-year-old Linwood cottage here.

At one time, it was a stopping-off place for the famous and the wealthy. John D. Rockefeller Sr., frequented the sprawling frame cottage when he vacationed at Mrs. Evans boarding house next door.

In 1893-94, one guest was Gov. Roswell P. Flower of New York, who put through legislation to turn the village mill pond into the lake that still bears his name.

Baseball's Christy Mathewson used to entertain former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey at the cottage. It was around 1923 that "Mathewson wore out many checker boards there playing with a world champion checker and chess player, Sandy McRay, recalled Pascal Urgo, whose mother-in-law ran the property as a boarding and rooming house for 30 years.

Situated on the village's main street, the once-proud old house deteriorated into an eyesore in recent years, and Urgo decided to tear it down.

"A local florist is going to erect a tent to sell flowers, a pottery concern will have a display area, a taxi company is taking a part—and it's not yet certain whether a used car company will be active there," Urgo said.

To know how to wait is the great secret of sccess. —DeMaistre

FHA Officials Tipped Profits, Builder States

Told How To Make Money Without Any Capital, Probers Hear

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Los Angeles builder told investigating senators today that Federal Housing Administration officials taught builders exactly how to profit from a postwar government - backed housing program without putting up "any capital."

The witness, Arthur B. Weber, said he couldn't remember the name of the FHA man he said came from Washington to tell him and other builders how to make money from the government program.

Weber, testifying under oath, said that he cleared $387,543 on two projects and later sold his interest in them for an additional profit of $125,000.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee which is conducting the housing investigation, asked Weber: "Do you feel that you were promoted in this" by the FHA?

Weber replied: "There is no question about that. Frankly, I wish we had never seen them. We acted in good faith. Our hands were tied."

Earlier, Sen. Maybank (D-SC), senior Democrat on the committee, said FHA officials should act at once to "cut back on windfall profits and reduce the inflated rents of tenants who are paying for them."

"Everybody's made money in those housing project deals except the tenant," he said. "He's the guy who's been paying for it."

Miss U.S.A.

Runners-up in the contest were in this order: Miss Virginia, Ellen Whitehead, an 18-year-old Chatham, Va., brunette; Miss New York State, Karin Hultman, 22, of Rochester; Miss New York City, Renee Roy, 23-year-old actress, and Miss Texas, 20-year-old Betty Lee of Austin, one of the tallest girls in the contest.

Miss Virginia, who gave the winner stiff competition, took her loss cheerfully and said, "it went to the prettier girl."

Miss South Carolina is a senior at Lander College in Greenwood, S. C. She is a major in home economics and can cook and sew. She wants to get married but says she wants to take a crack at a movie contract.

She also wins a new convertible, plus a number of other prizes.

Tonight she and the foreign beauties will go through preliminaries of the Miss Universe contest. Judging will last late into the night with the finals tomorrow night.

Ohio Air Base Site May Cost $1,000 an Acre

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Congress consents, four million dollars will be spent for land between Cleveland and Akron for a new Air Force-Navy Reserve training base.

The defense department asked $1,141,000 for the new installation. But in cutting the request to four million, the House Appropriations Committee said:

"Experience has shown that it is folly to appropriate large sums for construction until the site of the installation has been firmly established. . . ."

Military authorities have a definite tract of land—some 4,250 acres—in mind for the installation.

However, Col. F. J. Rodenhauser, director of real property for the Air Force, says the exact site will depend on how willing property owners are to sell their land.

He indicated in testimony before the House committee, that the proposed site is somewhere near Medina, Ohio, and that about $1,000 an acre would be paid.

"That is pretty expensive land out there as you can appreciate," he told the committee. "It is not only good farmland but it is getting close to the desirable land for further expansion of the estate type of suburban living from the Cleveland and Akron areas."

The installation — for weekend training of Air Force and Navy reservists—is estimated to cost 13 million dollars.

Congress soon will be asked also to approve spending $687,000 for military construction at Youngstown Municipal Airport in the year ending next June 30. The construction would include a base maintenance hangar, a 10,000-square foot warehouse, liquid fuel storage facilities, airfield pavements and an automotive shop.

The defense department has an over-all program for Youngstown Municipal Airport estimated to cost $11,146,000, to be stretched over several years.

Another bill pending in Congress would provide for the construction of 143 rental housing units at Youngstown for officers and enlisted personnel. Estimated cost is $1,930,500.

No Place for Snake

HARTFORD CITY, Ind. (UP)—Adam Willman told friends he was walking along a railroad track when he saw a four-foot blue racer writhing along with a beer can over its head.

Willman, a farmer watched the snake awhile and decided it had been trapped when it poked its head inside the can through a three-cornered hole.

Willman picked up snake and can, took them home, punched a bigger hole in the other end of the can and watched the snake crawl out.

His children took the captured reptile to school and put it on exhibition.

Final Approval Predicted Soon For Tax Slash

WASHINGTON (AP)— Republican leaders today predicted final congressional approval, possibly next week, for the biggest tax overhaul program in 75 years.

A House-Senate conference committee late yesterday agreed on a compromise version of the big bill to cut taxes next year for millions of individuals and many business firms a total of about $1,363,000,000.

President Eisenhower has hailed the plan as the cornerstone of his entire domestic program, predicting it would encourage business growth, remove scores of inequities and lead to more and better jobs.

To Renew Fight

But Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) served notice today he would renew, when the measure returns to the Senate for final action, a running fight many Democrats have waged against one provision in the bill—a cut in income taxes on dividends received by corporation stockholders.

On this politically touchy issue, the conference committee agreed to permit taxpayers to deduct their first $50 of dividend income. In addition, they could subtract 4 per cent of their remaining dividends directly from the tax bill they otherwise would pay. A man with $10,000 income from dividends could get a tax cut of slightly more than $400.

Compromise Plan

This was a compromise between a more liberal House plan which would have allowed a deduction of $100 and a tax credit of 10 per cent on dividend income; and a more restricted Senate provision which would have permitted only the $50 exclusion. The compromise version is expected to cost the Treasury about 204 million dollars the first year and 363 millions annually when it takes full effect.

The bill, running almost 1,000 pages, revamps almost every tax law on the books, at least technically. However it does not change major rates.

It permits scores of new or bigger deductions for medical expenses, depreciation, retirement income, child-care expenses, dependents who make more than $600, sick benefits, soil conservation outlays, and other items.

Both Senate and House Republican leaders foresaw easy approval next week.

VITAMIN C HELPS

NEW YORK (UP)—The chances of motherhood for thousands of women who have found it difficult may be increased by large amounts of vitamin C, according to a recent clinical study made at the Cornell University Medical College. Of 100 patients with an average of four lost babies each, 91 produced healthy children when treated with the C vitamin.

Military Items Sold as Brass May Be Silver

Shelby Depot Auction Officials Investigating Sale of Decorations

SHELBY, Ohio (AP)—Air Force officials here wondered today if about 57 tons of silver had been mislabeled and sold as brass at a bizarre auction here yesterday.

The Air Force auctioned off more than eight million dollars of surplus items at Wilkins Air Force Base Depot. It was one of the largest Air Force auctions ever held.

Excitement spread among 1,000 spectators yesterday as 117,086 pounds of military decorations came on the block.

Bidding Sparts

Reports circulated that the decorations—marked in the sale catalogue as brass—really were silver. Bids on the decorations leaped from five cents a pound to $1.90 a pound. A later "brass' lot sold for $4 per pound. The crowd was stunned.

Col. Narce Whitaker, depot commander, said he was "gravely concerned" over whether the decorations were brass or silver. He said final sales have been held up pending an investigation.

Although listed as brass, he said the decoraions looked like silver. They included marksmen medals and parachutists' insignia. All items sold had been on public display earlier.

A local firm, Shelby Iron Metal Co., bid $222,453.40 for 117,000 pounds of the surplus decorations. Later, the Topper Metal Co. of Akron bid $73,128 for 18,282 pounds of the stuff—whatever it was.

The brass-silver debate turned the auction into a million dollar business. After six hours, the take was $653,705.99. Then the decorations appeared. Bids soared.

An Air Force official said the government had paid $968,000 for the decorations looked like silver. said the decorations were stamped with the name of a silver company on the back.

Another "brass" lot was sold to the States Metal and Steel Co. of Canton, $2,647.26 for 14,707 pounds.

Some 400 active bidders bought everything from WAC's skirts to used dump trucks.

The government had hoped to realize at least 10 per cent of acquisition costs. By the time the decorations were bid for, the tally totaled more than a million dollars on items valued at eight million dollars. Most of the goods were unused.

U. S. Aid Dollars Not Wasted in Korea

(Editor's Note — What are American dollars buying in Korea? Why are Koreans critical of the job? Here are answers from the AP's chief of bureau for the Japan-Korea area, writing after extensive research on the scene. This is the second of three articles providing the background for the visit that President Syngman Rhee will pay President Eisenhower next week.)

By ROBERT EUNSON

SEOUL (AP)—Despite Korean criticism, the Americans responsible for overseeing aid to Korea in the last year say the taxpayer at home can take pride in the job his dollars have done.

The fighting halted a year ago next Tuesday. Since then United States and United Nations aid have cost 700 million dollars. Plans are to spend a billion more for civilian aid during the next three or four years and at least 250 million dollars a year for military aid so long as there is a threat of war in the Far East.

Second of a Series

The Korean aid program hardly got underway before leaders in the Korean government began complaining because these millions weren't an outright gift. They wanted the money with no strings attached. Uncle Sam insisted on having a say in how the funds would be spent.

—:—

A STARVING, war-weary populace of 22 million people couldn't wait while the technicalities of their salvation were argued. So the U.S. Army, with more than a hundred million to spend on civilian relief, got the aid program started anyway.

Here are a few samples of what has been done:

In the past 12 months, 175 freighters, each carrying 10,000 tons of food, clothing and other supplies, docked at Korean ports.

Doctors and nurses operating 96 hospitals and 569 dispensaries under the supervision of the Army's Korea Civil Assistance Command (KCAC) have been treating an average of 850,000 out-patients per month.

These dispensaries have innoculated practically the whole Korean population, and contagious disease has just about been eliminated.

AMERICAN BOMBS and shells as well as Communist explosives knocked out about three fourths of the factories in South Korea, as well as crippling the electric and steam generated power systems to run them. Since the dismal days of 1950-1951 the average monthly power output has increased from 10-15 million kilowatt hours to 70 million. Contracts were signed last month to spend 30 million dollars for three large steam plants which will double this output by 1956.

Milk cow and swine totals have nearly doubled since 1950. Grain production has increased six and seven times. Transportation and communications are being restored as rapidly as possible. Next month 1,400 railroad cars will be unloaded at a South Korean port.

THERE ARE FIVE integrated programs through which aid money for Korea is being channeled:

FOA — Foreign Operations Administration. This is the general aid program headed in Washington by Harold Stassen. It was slow getting started because of dissatisfaction from Korean government leaders. Since the war stopped it has spent 178 millions.

KCAC—Korea Civil Assistance Command. This is the U.S. Army's relief agency to care for civilians in war areas. In the past year it has expended 134 millions in Korean relief.

UNKRA — United Nations Korea Reconstruction Agency. It has spent 45 millions in the last 12 months.

AFAK — Armed Forces Assistance to Korea is the 8th Army's own private relief agency. It has spent 15 millions on projects since the war ended.

MILITARY ASSISTANCE — An outright gift in uniforms, equipment and supplies to the Korean Army. In the past year it amounted to 350 millions.

C. Tyler Wood came to Korea last August to head FOA and coordinate the other programs. He had authority to spend 50 millions immediately. Meanwhile the Eisenhower Administration was getting a billion dollars earmarked for Korea relief, to be spread over three to five years.

MUCH OF THE AID program is invisible because it is still in the planning stage. Consequently, Koreans anxious to see factories operating and war ravaged cities instantly rebuilt have charged waste, delay and confusion. But the men in Korea who are responsible for affairs of the American taxpayer speak encouragingly and explicitly.

Korean critics of the aid program agree there is a surplus of rice and barley this year because of the import of fertilizer; farmers are being resettled everywhere and most of the schools in South Korea have reopened.

But they still want to see factories built and operated by Korean workers.

"Let us take you around the country and show you the demolished factories in and around every big city," President Syngman Rhee told this correspondent. "These ruins stand gauntly for anyone to see, with few signs of reconstruction or rehabilitation despite the millions of dollars supposedly earmarked for that purpose.

"If the American people come and ask us to show them what we have done with their money we can only respond that we have not really been given responsibility for the reconstruction of our economy. The money has been spent by our friends who have not always devoted it to economic reconstruction.

"To sum up the whole unfortunate situation U. S. aid administration to date has been more of a bureaucratic expansionism, marked by organization and reorganization, ad infinitum, than a determined honest intelligent effort to achieve the economic rehabilitation of Korea.

"However, this does not include UNKRA which now gives indication of real helpfulness. We know that Gen. (John B.) Coulter as the agent general of UNKRA has achieved a good deal already in getting rid of the gigantic administrative establishments in America, Japan and Korea."

ONE OF THE factories which some Koreans want to see built would employ nothing but war widows.

"There are from 200,000 to 300,000 war widows in Korea," says Miss Louise Yim, head of a university. "I would like to see factories where they could make uniforms, or something for our soldiers. After all, we are going to be having a large army for a long time."

Next: A look at Korea today.

the French the Red bear now is so docile German troops are not needed.

Reminded by Smith

But at dinner last night U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith drew Mendes-France aside to remind him that the United States still feels the EDC is the key to West Europe's defense against Communist aggression.

The French Premier also had a brief talk with British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden. Britain has joined the United States in urging that France give quick approval to the one-uniform army plan.

When Mendes-France made his dramatic bid for France's premiership a month ago, he outlined a three-point program:

1. Settlement of the Indochina conflict by July 20.

2. Submission of a coherent, detailed program for internal economic recovery, provided the Assembly gives him the powers necessary to implement it.

3. Presentation to Parliament of suggestions to help it decide on a policy for a united Europe—in other words, EDC.

Mendes-France said then he considered a new approach to EDC in order. He called the plan which would put German soldiers in uniform along with the troops of five other West European countries "one of the gravest problems of conscience that has ever troubled a country." He indicated there should be an adjustment of views with the other signers of the pact—West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg.

HERE'S A SWITCH

MILFORD, Conn. (UP) — A board of education member, John C. Novak, 33, announced his resignation because he wanted to get a job as a teacher. Novak, who owns a contracting business, said he prefers the "modest and secure" salary of a teacher against the "ups and downs of private business."

Old Timers Group Organized By Epworth Church Members

First meeting of a newly organized group, the Epworth Methodist Old Timers, was held at the church Tuesday afternoon when more than 75 people from the ages of 60 to 84 gathered in Fellowship Hall.

Reminiscences of the "good old days" formed a large part of the program, with a former pastor, Rev. Charles E. Turley of Florida and Lancaster, as the featured speaker. The present minister, Rev. Walter C Eyster, presided and gave greetings, and later he was honored, together with his family, as the youngest pastor at Epworth Church in many years.

He was extended the appreciation of the audience for his effort in behalf of the older people, and for setting in motion their organization as a new unit in the congregation. The older adult group interest is the newest emphasis in the work of the denomination's National Board throughout the country.

The stage was set to create an "old time" atmosphere with a worship center which included an old-fashioned family Bible and furniture and shawl, a picture of one of the congregation's earliest pastors, and a painting of "Christ in Gethsemane" in an antique frame. On the piano was a picture of Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Swank.

Rev. Eyster led in singing of old hymns, and Miss Sophia Mack read the Twenty-third Psalm, followed by a period of silent meditation. Mrs. Robert Williams, pianist, played "Sweet Hour of Prayer." Prayer was offered by Frank Zuck.

Introduced as the committee in charge of the gathering were Miss Olive Gurley, Mr and Mrs. Rex Robinson, Mr. and Mrs Zuck, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Waddell, Miss Gertrude Carleton, Mrs G. O. VanSickle and Mrs. Walter Eyster. Miss Margaret Huffman told of plans for the Ohio Conference's first Older Adult Assembly at Lancaster next month which Epworth members will attend. Offering was received by Homer Waddell, A. J. Loudenslager, John Clark and Calvin Baldinger, and prayer was by Rev. Sheridan Walker, retired Marion minister.

Mrs. Turley was greeted with Rev. Turley. The latter spoke of experiences in Epworth Church and of a ministry "rich in rewards of spiritual wealth."

Following his talk, a special feature was the conversation of the audience by way of a telephone hookup with two shut-in members of the congregation, Mrs Relvie Sifritt and Mrs. C. D. Snider. Mrs. W. D. McGee, presented the oldest couple there, Mr. and Mrs. Zuck, with a flower bouquet, and honored for long membership in the church were Miss Etta Jacoby and Mrs. P. W. Fetter. After singing of "Blest Be the Tie" and benediction by Rev. Turley, refreshments were served. It was announced that the Old Timers meetings will start on a regular schedule in September.

Traffic Cases

Fines and bond forfeitures totaling $180 were assessed 11 drivers in Marion Municipal Court Wednesday on various traffic charges.

Biggest penalty was a $35 bond forfeiture charged to Richard C Stone, 22, of Cleveland when he failed to appear for a hearing on a reckless driving charge.

Other dispositions were: Stanley C. Schlesselman, 37, of Hamilton, speeding, $15 and costs; Earl A. Quillen, 38, of near Radnor, failure to have an assured clear distance ahead, $15 and costs; Robert W. Warner, 19, of Columbus, two charges, no operator's license, $15 and costs suspended and reckless driving, $15 and costs; Vernon Williams, 27, of 147 Jefferson St., driving on a temporary permit unaccompanied by a licensed driver, $15 and costs; Richard A. Prater, 19, of 428 Park Blvd., no driver's license, $15 and costs; Walter W. Seifert, 40, of Columbus, crossing yellow line, $15 and costs; Genevieve D. Angelus of Dayton, passing at an intersection, $15 and costs; Charles T. Burton, 22, of Lorain, Mich., reckless driving, $15 and costs, and Gerald DeVine, 37, of Columbus, stop sign violation, $10 and costs.

of last night, before the session had run more than 12 hours.

The Senate voted down 55-36 an amendment by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) which would have forbade the Atomic Energy Commission to contract for electric power unless it was to be used directly in AEC plants. This would have had the effect of blocking Eisenhower's directive to the AEC to enter into a contract with a private power combine for power to be delivered in the Memphis, Tenn., area over lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Would Replace TVA Power

This private power would replace energy TVA is supplying to the AEC's plant at Paducah, Ky. The private plant would replace a proposed TVA steam plant for which Congress thus far has refused to provide funds.

A group of Democratic senators, with the support of Sens. Cooper (R-Ky), Langer (R-ND) and Morse (Ind-Ore), assailed the proposal as costly and as a move to undermine TVA. Administration backers called it the cheapest way to obtain power needed in the area.

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday that anyone who says he is seeking to destroy TVA is in error—to put it mildly.

Narcotics

He noted that all are long-time addicts and some have federal penitentiary records for previous narcotics laws violations.

The arrest and filing of charges against the five by city police was credited by Federal Bureau of Narcotics officials with stopping a bad situation from becoming worse. They reported a similar case involving a Loudonville doctor.

Narcotics licenses of both the Marion and Loudonville doctors who marcotics agents say used "very poor judgment" in prescribing the drugs for the addicts, were lifted by federal agents. This will prohibit them from issuing prescriptions for narcotics in the future.

less expansive pressure of the Communist world.

As a move in this direction, the United States, Britain and other friendly countries have agreed to call an international conference late next month to write for Southeast Asia a defensive alliance designed to protect non-Communist lands here against Communist conquest.

This decision, reported by diplomatic authorities, means a speed-up of perhaps several months in efforts to shore up in Southeast Asia against possible further inroads of the Communists. Britain earlier had been taking a "go slow" line and diplomatic quarters until today had expected no conference could be held for some time.

There is no fear here of a Communist renewal of open military aggression in Indochina. The fear is rather that the Reds will use political and economic pressures and subversive tactics to undermine South Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos and eventually take them over. Authorities say the best way to counter this is to strengthen those states in every possible way, and primarily by creating a defensive alliance of Western and Asian nations for their protection.

Secretary Dulles was quoted as having told the House Foreign Affairs Committee at a closed session yesterday that this country had helped to obtain terms at Geneva "which would, to a degree, mitigate the effect of the military settlement upon the peoples of the Indochina area."

There was little comment in Congress, and no disposition to picture the settlement as anything but a gain for the Reds.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) termed it "one of the greatest victories for the Communists in a decade." Sen. Robertson (D-Va) predicted Congress will be asked for two or three billion dollars more for defense. Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) called the settlement "the best of a bad bargain." Sen. Symington (D-Mo) said "the position of the free world continues to deteriorate in Asia" while Russia, he said, is winning the hydrogen bomb race.

McCarthy

Wilson told a news conference Tuesday he had asked for no resignations in the wake of the McCarthy-Army hearings and that none were pending.

Roy M. Cohn, who like Adams was a key figure in the hearings, resigned this week as subcommittee chief counsel.

Lavenia, a former Secret Service man, told newsmen he thinks the reason he wasn't cleared now is that in 1936, as a student at the St. Johns University Law School in Brooklyn, N.Y., he was elected vice president of the American Law Students Assn., a group McCarthy has termed Leftist. Lavenia said he attended only one meeting and walked out of it.

Truce in Indochina Invites Aggression

Larry Allen, Pulitzer prize correspondent of The Associated Press, covered the Indochina war for more than two years from Saigon and Hanoi. Recently he went to Singapore where he could write without regard to censorship.

By LARRY ALLEN

SINGAPORE (AP)—Peace is coming to Indochina by the simple device of splitting Viet Nam in half. That leaves millions of persons under Red rule, unless they choose to flee, and raises the question of just how long Ho Chi Minh will be content with just northern Indochina.

With the cease-fire line drawn near the 17th parallel, about half of Idochina's 26 millions and the big rice bowl of the Red River Delta with its tremendous resources of salt, coal, iron, phosphates and cement will fall under Red control sooner or later.

The Vietminh also get the "Maginot line" of Indochina. This is the long network of concrete reinforced, heavily gunned bunkers atop the mountains around Tien Yen, 40 miles southeast of Moncay. The line was finished two years ago to repeal any Chinese or massive Viet Minh attack toward the seaport of Haiphong.

THIS IS NOT ALL. The Vietminh also get what they might call "victory." Ever since the war started every French commander has said—and Western diplomats and even the Vietminh have agreed—that "whoever holds the Red River Delta holds all of Indochina. As the Delta goes so goes Southeast Asia."

Under the cease-fire the Vietminh will get the Delta. The cease-fire provides that the French evacuate enclaves covering the cities of Hanoi and Haihong within 300 days. How long Ho Chi Minh might contain himself within the truce is anybody's guess — unless stopped by a new Southeast Asia Security Alliance or similar arrangement.

But Vietnamese leaders do not believe Ho Chi Minh will long stay put. Nguyen Huu Tri, until recently governor of North Viet Nam, once told newsmen in Hanoi: "Even if one province is given to Ho Chi Minh as the price of peace he will take all of the country as soon as he can."

BACK OF THE inability of the war-weary French to score a decisive victory in the long war lies the big factor of noncooperation from the Vietnamese masses. The hearts and sympathies of most Vietnamese have always been with Ho, who never lost his identity as a symbol fighting for his country's independence from France.

Most of the eight million Vietnamese living in the Red River Delta long have figured all that's important is to have enough rice to eat—and that it will grow just as well under the Red flag of Ho Chi Minh, with its single yellow star, as under the French Tricolor. Most do not fear communism for they never have experienced it. Those who do probably will evacuate with the French forces.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France has ended a conflict that saw two million Vietnamese uprooted from their homes, towns and cities.

PROPERTY LOSSES run into many billions of dollars. The struggle since 1946 cost France, the Associated States of Indochina and the United States more than eight billion dollars.

It was war the French estimated cost the Vietminh 240,000 killed, 30,000 captured and 400,000 wounded.

On the French Union side, best available casualty figures show around 55,000 killed, 12,000 missing, 80,000 wounded. The death toll among French soldiers who came direct from France totaled about 16,000. American casualties alone in the shorter Korean war climbed over the 130,000 mark.

The Vietminh, once the French pull out of Hanoi and Haiphong enclaves, will have all of the Delta as a springboard for further penetration into Indochina and to threaten Southeast Asia — unless barriers that might be erected by Allied powers force them to stay inside the truce line.

Jersey GOP

By George Sokolsky

Former Gov. Harold Hoffman, the Rigoletto of the Circus Saints and Sinners, was for many years one of he leading Republicans in New Jersey, and held political positions after be left the governorship. He was a gay extrovert, an excellent raconteur, a brilliant wisecracker and an enormous spendthrift. After Hoffmans death, it was discovered that he had embezzled funds of the bank over which he presided and possibly other funds.

SOKOLSKY

The Hoffman scandal has wrecked the Republican organization of New Jersey and has given high hopes to the Democrats. Few Republicans in that state believe that there is any chance of carrying the state in 1954.

Worse than the harness - racing scandal in New York State, the Hoffman scandal strikes a blow because it was wholly unexpected. No one ever suspected that Harold Hoffman was not an honest official, eking out a difficult exisence.

HE HAD MANAGED to keep his secret from the public.

I had seen Hoffman on many occasions during the past 10 years and he always gave the impression of not having a worry in the world. It was a marvelous performance.

The Hoffman scandal hits hard the candidacy of Clifford Case for the United States Senate. New Jersey Republicans, on the whole, had no desire to nominate Clifford Case. He is an outsider favored by the White House. His affiliations do not improve his popularity in New Jersey with Old - Guard Republicans; and the support afforded him by the ADA definitely places him in opposition to those Republicans who believe in local autonomy.

There is an old history of a pagy split in New Jersey, arising out of the famous alleged doublecross of Sen. Robert A. Taft by Gov. Alfred Driscoll in the 1952 campaign. Taft was certain that he could carry New Jersey in the primaries and the governor told him that he would be strictly neutral. The governor's emissary was Sen. H. Alexander Smith.

At the last moment, the governor intervened and Taft lost the state. All the explanations offered by Driscoll and Smith never satisfied the Taft element in New Jersey who, to this day, are antagonistic to the dominant group in the party.

THE VERSIONS of this particular double - cross are so numerous and varied that it serves no purpose to sit in judgment over them now. Suffice it that it produced a split. The Taft Republicans are responding to the nomination of Clifford Case by opposing his election.

To add fuel to his fire, Case felt called upon to try to read Sen. Joe McCarthy out of the Republican party which, of course, is none of Case's business, that being the proper decision for the Republicans of Wisconsin. Case may feel strongly on the subject but politically it was a foolhardy thing to do.

New Jersey is divided on McCarthy, the line of cleavage being clear and distinct. The Taft element and the old-line Republicans are pro-McCarthy; the New York suburbanites who vote in New Jersey, the Driscoll Republicans and the active Eisenhower Republicans are violently anti - McCarthy. Between them no compromise is possible.

Because of the nature of the population of certain cities in New Jersey, an extraordinarily large number of Democrats in New Jersey are pro-McCarthy and while they will not vote for a Republican, they are in a position to stir public feeling.

THE UNUSUAL situation in New Jersey is that some powerful and influential Republicans are organizing to have Case withdrawn as a candidate. In this effort, they will undoubtedly fail.

Some groups are proposing an active campaign to influence Republicans to boycot the election for a United States senator.

The sum total of all this activity is that it is now generally held that Case will not be elected in New Jersey, despite the support of President Eisenhower. On the other hand, Case has the support of the CIO and other labor leaders. How important this is cannot be estimated because New Jersey labor is essentially Democratic locally, although the Republicans have carried the state for senaors.

It is doubtful that Case's labor support and the large sums of money at his disposal will offset the split in the Republican party because Republican victories have resulted from adding to the normal Republican vote independent and Democratic elements.

No Secrets

By Victor Riesel

LONDON

With the shade of Sherlock Holmes hovering about somewhere, I'm certain that the great Scotland Yard and the officialdom over at MI - 5, British Intelligence, will forgive some amateur sleuthing.

RIESEL

I did want to discover if the Communists had infiltrated the English atomic laboratories, the radar and electronic plants and other centers of guarded electrical production, as they have in the U. S.

In other words, are there any secrets from the Communists?

There aren't. The Commies have succeeded. The British electronic and aircraft industries are magnificent. They beat back the Nazis once. They can do the same in any contest with Soviet aircraft.

THE COMINTERN obviously was not going to overlook them.

The tovarischi started on this project a long way back. They always do. Shortly after the first World War, in fact, Soviet military intelligence believed that the next war would be fought with chemical weapons—gas, mostly.

So the Comintern dispatched word to the British comrades to infiltrate the British chemical unions. This they did in the Twenties.

Then along came some bright brain in the Kremlin who decided that the next war would not be fought with mustard gas after all. The next big blow, and the final conflict they sing about so much, would be pushpbutton affairs, electronic brain stuff, it said in their crystal ball.

So in the early Thirties, both the American and British Communist union chiefs were ordered to forget some other projects and hurry into the electrical field. The British party crowd was told to ease up on the chemical unions here if they didn't have manpower for both assignments.

IT DID NOT TAKE the local tovarischi very long to win control of the highly strategic Electrical Trades Union and also considerable influence in the Amalgamated Engineering Union (which is the British counterpart of the aggressively anti-Communist American Union, the AFLs' International Assn. of Machinists—without whose members there can be no war industry, no air fleet, no "fabulous weapons" or guided missiles.)

Measure of the Communists' success in this Operation Infiltration can be seen in a report proudly published by the British Communist party here the other day. The party printed a score card handing down to the faithful the tabulation on the resolutions introduced by Communists and their fellow travelers at recent labor conventions.

The all-vital Electrical Trades Union, Communist controlled, and the Amalgamated Engineers, heavily infiltrated, were shown to have passed every one of the resolutions introduced by the party and its friends.

Nice crowd to have in your atomic bomb and aircraft fields. Two of these resolutions called for the end of atomic production and increased trade with the Communist bloc.

Today the electrical union has its people in all strategic plants—radar, aircraft, atomic buildings, research, and whatever else goes into the making of modern war.

FURTHERMORE, it has its men concentrated in such vital areas as the Liverpool and Birkenhead Docks, and the Merseyside industrial area.

This union—the ETU—is lead by the toughest Sovieteers in the business. It has a training school out at Esher, Surrey, where it develops new cadres of leaders. Thus there is little chance of a revolt within the ranks or the splitting away of sections of this union in years to come.

Following the suggestion of a friend in London, I called the union as an American newsman (pressman, they say) and asked if I couldn't sit in on some of the classes. I couldn't. No one could.

You can have tea. You can see the building. But you can't sit in.

This union is a tightly controlled outfit—all ready to roll.

Not too long ago, the ETU had what might be described as rehearsal for radical action. It ran a series of rolling "guerrilla strikes." A few men were pulled off the job, first in one plant, then another. Each place was paralyzed for a day, and resumed work as the next one went dead.

-:-

THE UNION'S central headquarters ordered its members out of the huge Capenhurst Atom plant, and out of the Harwell Atomic Research Station, where they worked on construction of the most secret facilities; and out of two other two other atomic centers.

They struck a giant refinery at Ellesmere. Important docks where shipping can be paralyzed by the strike of a few men were crippled as were a score of other plants.

In all, 30,000 disciplined electrical workers hit the bricks on orders from their Communist leaders. The dock strike was called over a hiring grievance. Others walked out for slight pay increases—but whatever the reason, they did take orders to deaden production.

The Ministry of Supply says it has checked on the men in the atomic centers.

experts here who say this simply can't be done, any more than we did.

Atom Bombing

By Charles Mercer

for HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK

My frivolous thought for the day recently cast a feeble ray of optimism on the effects of atomic bombing. It could, I thought, just happen to do a little good for a very few survivors by destroying (1) birth certificate records and (2) marriage license records.

The boon would be great to women in their 40s who long to be 31. Who could deny their claim to eternal youth if the record were destroyed? To some women the claim of youth appears so precious that apparently they would gladly forfeit their stocks, bonds and bank accounts to a holacaust.

THEN THERE IS the case of some married couples. Imagine John and Mary wandering back to the wreckage, and suppose that Mary has been tired of married life with John for some time. As they approach each other in the smoking ruins, John cries, "Darling!" Mary scowls at him and says, "Get away from me. Who are you anyway?" John, aghast, exclaims, "Your beloved husband." Smiling triumphantly, Mary says, "Prove it, you heel." And there goes another marriage.

This frivolous thought occurred to me as I was strolling down the west bank of Fifth Avenue on my way to chat with a fellow named Charlie Costigan.

Costigan, who lives in Oradell, N.J., was preoccupied at the time installing a 30-ton door on a massive vault in the new Manufacturers Trust Co. building. This vault, by the way, sits right up front in the building behind what will be one of the world's biggest sheets of plate glass. Thus if a burglar ever starts tampering with Charlie Costigan's big door he'll attract quite an audience on Fifth Avenue.

COSTIGAN IS A lean, limber, quick man who looks 50 and is 60 years old. The Mosler Safe Co., which employs him and his crew of men to go around the country installing vauuts, says there are only a half dozen men in the nation who can do the job that Charlie does.

This hasn't gone to Costigan's head. He is, in fact, remarkably modest. When confronted by the statement he "flips vault doors like pancakes," he smiles helplessly at the floor.

"I am," he says, "a traveling mechanic."

The obvious fact about a vault is that it's no safer than its door. If you've ever put on a screen door you know it's a tricky operation. And when you visualize a 30-ton door that must fit to a hundred-thousandth of an inch and swing at the pressure of a finger you can imagine the highly exacting nature of Costigann's work.

"It is," he says, "all a matter of balance."

WHILE WE TALKED, his crew was jacking up the 30-ton door and cribbing it preparatory to the big moment when they'd swing it across the opening and Costigan would delicately set it in place.

Finally I put the big question to Costigan. "This vault would withstand an atomic bombing—wouldn't it?"

"Why, yes," said Costigan thoughtfully. "Yes, I think it would."

Then, I told Costigan about my frivolous thought, my Fifth Avenue fantasy. He listened politely, but gradually he took on the expression of a man who feared another was putting words in his mouth.

Slowly he backed away. "Well," he said, "I've got to get back to the job."

He was happy to get his hands on something solid like a 30-ton door that had to fit to a hundred-thousandth of an inch.

Bucyrus Mother of Six Given 60-Day Jail Term

BUCYRUS — Mrs. Fern Harmon 41, of Bucyrus, pleaded guilty to a charge of neglecting her six children at her arraignment here Tuesday before Crawford County Juvenile Judge Constance R. Keller and was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail.

Mrs. Harmon's children are now in the County Children's Home at Galion, where they were removed July 13 following Mrs. Harmon's arrest.

Warrant for Mrs. Harmon's arrest was signed by County Probation Officer Edward Talbott. It charged her with acting in a way tending to cause the neglect and dependency of her children. In Tuesday's hearing, custody of the children was taken from the parents and the father, John, Bucyrus, was ordered to pay for their support.

Election Officials To Attend Meeting

Marion County will be represented by Harold Clark and Elandes Miller at a meeting concerning elections scheduled to be conducted in Columbus next Thursday by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. Clark is clerk and Miller is deputy clerk of the Marion County Board of Elections.

The legislative committee of the Ohio Association of Election Officials, which worked closely with Brown in making recommendations to the last legislature, will meet with local board officials attending the meeting.

Committee members will review the changes made, which became effective Jan. 1, as to their application to the 1954 elections.

In addition to the session with the legislative committee, the election officials will also hear a discussion of "charge-backs" of election expenses, the apportioning of expenses to the various political subdivisions.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Fred H. Becker, 68, president of the Ohio Leather Co. at nearby Girard, died yesterday after a long illness.

Ohio Bell Rate Boost Bid Hit By Economist

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Columbus financial expert recommends the state utilities commission allow the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. "only the barest reasonable rate of return."

The expert is Dr. Ivon W. Ulrey, Columbus director of public utilities who is fighting the company's application for an $8,913,000 annual rate increase.

Cities protesting the application—some of which think telephone rates should be cut instead of raised—begin presenting testimony when the rate case resumes next Monday.

Dr. Ulrey's technical testimony is on file with the commission. It goes into the general economic picture and that of Ohio Bell in particular and concludes:

"There is more than ample justification for the rejection of the applicant's request for increased rates and charges."

Dr. Ulrey cites federal figures and says "it is clear that the Ohio Public Utilities Commission has allowed Ohio Bell and its associate operating in the Cincinnati area (Cincinnati & Suburban Bell) to enjoy higher earnings than the average allowed by all commissions in all the areas where Bell System companies operate in every one of the past five years."

Dr. Ulrey has no specific recommendations for a rate of return or individual rates the company should be allowed. That is because other cities protesting the application will go into that field, he says.

Dr. Ulrey has been a member of the Ohio State University faculty since 1947, teaching public utility and transportation economics.

UPPER CHILD'S CONDITION

UPPER SANDUSKY—Susie Carroll, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Carroll of this city, is reported as about the same in Children's hospital, Columbus, where she was rushed last Friday night after becoming ill. The little girl was riding a pony at the Sycamore carnival when her entire right side became paralyzed and she lost her power of speech. She is being treated for what doctors earlier described as a blood clot.

PINBALL RULING AWAITED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Judges of the Second District Court of Appeals indicated yesterday they will rule that pinball machines may be kept under cover while owners and operators appeal their ban in the city. City officials said the machines would be confiscated. Pinball machine operators want their property protected while their appeal from a common pleas court decision upholding a city ordinance against machines "easily" converted to gambling purposes is pending.

Meeting Set Aug. 4

Forming of Area Mental Health Clinic Considered

A meeting to discuss formation of a four-or five-county mental health clinic will be held in Delaware Aug. 4.

Representatives of several interested Marion County organizations have been invited to attend.

AS ENVISIONED by its planners, the clinic would serve the Delaware, Marion, Union, Morrow and Knox County area.

State mental health funds are available for operation of such clinics in areas embracing a minimum population of 100,000, if local organizations provide one-third the cost. With this one-third cost divided among the several counties participation, the plan becomes an economical one for counties whose doctors have difficulty obtaining use of psychiatric facilities for their patients in large centers such as Columbus, Cleveland or Toledo.

The local communities' share of the costs are generally met through Community Chests or similar agencies.

A mental health clinic embracing the area suggested would operate on a budget of about $30,000 annually, proponents of the plan say. The share of this budget to be paid by the member communities would be $10,000.

A mental health clinic would have four staff members — a psychiatrist, psychologist, psychiatric case worker, and receptionist. State funds are used to pay the salaries of the latter three staff members and part of the salary of the psychiatrist.

Other costs of operating the clinic would be incurred in obtaining suitable office space. Often such community psychiatric clinics are located in a residence in a centrally located town.

Daryl Orwig, a Tiffin businessman who was instrumental in organizing a multiple-county clinic in Tiffin, will be the principal speaker at the Aug. 4 meeting in Bun's Restaurant at Delaware. Some state officials may also be present.

REPRESENTATIVES of the Marion County Family Service Society, League of Women Voters, Marion County Academy of Medicine and other health, educational and civic leaders have been invited to attend.

The meeting, sponsored by the Delaware Council of Social Agencies, will be a follow-up of an exploratory discussion held by representatives of the five counties in Delaware May 17.

Honest Police Call

OMAHA (AP)—Police learned that Robert Viele is a conscientious man. He wanted to go fishing and he wanted to dig worms near a grain elevator. But he didn't want to trespass.

He went to the office door and tried to rouse someone. His efforts set off the burglar alarm.

The house in New Haven, Conn., where Ethelbert Nevins, composer of "The Rosary" and "Mighty Lak a Rose" died, is marked with a bronze plaque.

Eight Granted Citizenship in Court Hearing

Six Marion County residents, along with two others from Springfield and Columbus, became United States citizens during a naturalization hearing Tuesday morning in Common Pleas Court.

Presenting the eight applicants for citizenship to Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith was Elmer J. Scantland of Columbus, officer of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Becoming citizens were Arthur Lorentz Andersen of Durfee Dr., a native of Norway; Teresa Renato Barnard of 1084 Uncapher Ave., Italy; Freda Oliver Creasap of 564 Universal Ave., England; Georgia Skevos of 657 Windsor St., Greece; Bolka Krawczyk of near Prospect, Poland; Stanley Joseph Krawczyk of near Prospect, Poland; Elfriede Gabriele Morton of Springfield, Germany; and Ivars Zigurds Spugis of Columbus, Latvia.

TO ADDRESS DEMOCRATS

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—United States Senators Thomas A. Burke, Paul Douglas of Illinois and Estes Kefauver of Tennessee are scheduled to speak here Aug. 28 at a dinner sponsored by Columbiana County Democrats and honoring Rep. Wayne L. Hayes of Flushing.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slowdown of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

No Need To Risk War

Peace in Indochina Seen As Shift in Soviet Tactics

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) —Now that the Geneva conference has given the Communists half of Viet Nam, the puzzling question remains: Why were the Communists willing to make the agreement and end the war?

They had the French on the run in Indochina when the Geneva conference began last April and were continuing to push them up to the time the armistice was signed.

They may feel confident they can win control of all Viet Nam in elections to be held in 1956. That would be the first time the Communists had won new territory through free elections.

May Signal Change

This armistice would seem to signal a shift in Communist tactics, at least temporarily. Their twin goals will remain the same: To subvert where they can and to weaken Western resistance by splitting the Allies.

Instead of trying to subvert and at the same time split the Allies by shooting, as in Korea and Indochina, they may feel they can accomplish both ends better in a period of peace, or at least give it a try.

So long as shooting continued they were in danger. If, instead of settling for half of Viet Nam, they had tried to take it all from the French by force, the United States and Britain eventually might have intervened. The result might have been world war.

Just forcing the French to give them half of Viet Nam was a Communist victory over the West, which had been too divided to agree on a plan for stopping them militarily.

Repetition of Korea

This was twice within a year that communism had pushed the West into a position where it was glad to settle for an armistice instead of fighting on to a victory, in Korea in 1953 and now in Indochina.

It was a lesson which could hardly be lost on the millions of Asians, who for centuries had been forced to regard the West as invincible when dealing with Asiatics.

This realization and the memory of what happened in Korea and Indochina may have a weakening effect on Southeast Asians if they have to make a decision on allying themselves with the West against communism.

Since French Premier Mendes-France had promised to resign this week unless he obtained an Indochina armistice, it might seem that Russian Foreign Minister Molotov would have wanted to prevent an armistice.

For resignation by Mendes-France would have forced the French to choose a new government, perhaps weaker than the present one and more of a push-over for Communist pressure.

On the surface that might appear logical. But Molotov had to take something else into consideration: That Mendes-France's failure, and resultant French exasperation and frustration, might have produced a strong military leader and bitterness against the Russians.

It was a gamble and Molotov apparently chose to take it easy. What Russia wants is to prevent creation of the European Defense Community — the single European Army — urged by the United States.

The French have stalled on this plan which would put them in a single army with the West Germans. Russia has been anxious to prevent both EDC and German rearming. Now, faced with the prospect of peace everywhere in the world for an indefinite period, the French may be more reluctant than ever to join EDC.

If the United States and Britain go ahead with reported plans to let the Germans rearm independently if the French won't join them in EDC, there will be a wedge between the three Allies.

Western Unity Under Fire

The Russians can be depended on to do all they can to drive wedges in here and elsewhere. For example, the United States is going to face the problem of trying to keep the Red Chinese out of the United Nations.

Then there is the problem of trading with the Red Chinese. The United States is against it. The British, for instance, consider this unrealistic.

Meanwhile, without starting wars the Communists can work from within any country they pick as their next target. They can afford a period of quiet for a change, if only to see how they can make it work for them.

And since the United States is probably ahead of them in armaments, they can use a few years of peace to build up their arsenal against the moment they think ripe for a showdown.

In most fishes, the eggs are fertilized after they are laid.

Agreements With U.S. Under Fire

Uranium Hot Issue in Belgian Politics

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Belgium rules the greatest uranium producing area in the world—the Belgian Congo—and the price she is getting for the atomic ore is a hot political issue at home.

No one outside top government officials knows what that price is. Almost everyone else, from the Communists to extreme right wingers, is convinced it is far too low. And the government is accused of virtually giving away the precious ore to the United States and Britain.

The Communists are attempting to play the touchy subject both ways. In Belgium, they stand as defenders of the nation's interests against "American imperialism." In the Congo, they pose as crusaders for independence of the natives.

Much of the government's difficulty arises from the secret agreements under which the ore is sold to the United States and Britain. The agreements were first signed in 1944. Their terms have been altered somwhat in postwar years, but some top Belgian political leaders still have expressed dissatisfaction with certain provisions.

An indication of the financial return on the operation can be gained from financial statements of the Union Miniere de Haut Katanga, one of the big uranium producing outfits. Its shares have nearly doubled in price—from $370 to $722—since 1945.

The company declared a $29 dividend in 1953, $4 higher than the previous year. This compared with a dividend in 1945 of $4.

Many Belgians resent the U. S. ban on the exchange of atomic information with other nations. They feel this has handicapped their scientists in establishing a nuclear research center in Belgium.

Such a center is under construction at Mol, near Antwerp. Many Belgian newspapers have commented that if the United States had offered more aid in this field, much duplication of effort on both sides of the Atlantic might have been avoided and more progress made in less time.

Drought-Hatched Ducks Can't Swim

DENTON, Ga. (AP) — A pair of ducks that can't swim are living evidence of the drought in this area.

When they had reached the age of eight weeks without ever seeing a puddle big enough to paddle in, their owner, Eddie Williams, 6, decided it was high time they got a chance to do what's supposed to come naturally to all ducks.

He filled a tub with water, tossed them in and stood by to watch, and a good thing he did, too. Eddie barely saved them from drowning.

Now they apparently consider water a death-trap for dryland ducks and won't go near the dangerous stuff.

The cultivation and preparation of flax are among the most ancient of the textile industries.

SAYS OHIO LOWEST

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican gubernatorial candidate James A. Rhodes yesterday said Ohio ranks at the bottom of the list of states having adequate facilities for mentally ill population of 20,000 or more. He accused his Democratic opponent, Gov. Frank J. Lausche, of having a negative attitude toward Ohio's mental health program.

Recent studies indicate that most meteors are porous, fragile bodies.

Girl's Pet Raccoon Raids Neighbor's Chickens, Eats 81

WATERVLIET, Mich. (AP)—Nancy a pet raccoon really hated to eat and run — but that's the way it had to be.

Clarence Cowgill told sheriff's deputies he spotted Nancy making a bee-line from his chicken coop without stopping to apologize for breakfasting on 71 of his 2-month-old chicks.

Nancy rushed down the road to her home with the Earle Bianchans. But instead of going to her pen, she apparently thought the attic would be a safer place for a chicken-stuffed raccoon.

In trying to get her down, deputies awoke 13-year-old Alice Brock who said: "I could have gotten Nancy down if you hadn't scared her. She's afraid of strangers."

Nancy was put back in her pen.

'FEELERS' OUT

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Sherman Johnson says he had been "approached" to replace Rep. Robert T. Secrest as Democratic candidate from the 15th Ohio district on the November ballot. Secrest withdrew after he was appointed to the Federal Trade Commission.

West Germans Planning Huge Road Projects

BONN, Germany (AP) — Bustling West Germany is preparing to complete a job Hitler left unfinished 13 years ago. It will finish the famed autobahn — superhighway—network in a seven-year construction program costing $304,640,000.

Hitler started the road-building project in 1933 as a military invasion route to Poland, Austria and France. He built 2,100 miles of autobahns. West Germany inherited 1,450 miles. Now in an effort to spur trade and travel, it will extend the system to Swiss and Belgian frontiers, and fill gaps in the route linking the North Sea with the Alps.

Seven main stretches totaling 368 miles will be built. Construction will be financed in part by heavier taxes on large trucks and on gasoline and diesel oil.

The autobahns are Europe's finest roads. A 14-foot strip of grass separates the double lanes. There are no telephone or telegraph lines or billboards. The autobahns bypass cities. There are no intersections and no speed limits except those established by the military for occupation personnel.

Aug. 1 is Independence Day in Switzerland.

Wedding of Singer On Godfrey Show Set for Saturday

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Lu Ann Simms, 21-year-old singing star of the "Arthur Godfrey and his friends" television show, will be married Saturday to Loring B. Buzzell, 26, New York City music publisher.

Her parents Mr. and Mrs. Aldredge Cimmelli, said today the wedding would take place in St. Raphael's Church, 41st Street, New York City at 10 a. m., EST. The couple's engagement was announced Easter Sunday.

A Columbus Broadcasting System spokesman said Miss Simms would resume her program in the fall "as far as we know."

Miss Simms parents said the couple planned to reside in New York City after an Adirondack Mountains honeymoon.

Pure flint is translucent.

FALLS OFF SCOW

CLEVELAND (AP)—Eddie J. Brochu, 50, fell off a scow in Lake Erie nine miles north of here last night. Coast Guardsmen were called to help find him when crewmen on the tug pulling the scow to a dumping ground were unable to locate him after he slipped and fell.

British railways have 500 different types of steam locomotives but plan to reduce the number of types to 12.

from Mary Blake Director
Carnation Home Service Department

Chicken cheese Pie

(Makes 4-6 Servings)

2½ cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
2 cups well drained canned green beans
6 thin ham slices (or 7 1lb. can luncheon meat)
1½ cups (large can) undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk
2 cups (about 8 oz.) cubed processed American cheese
1 tablespoon steak sauce
1 teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup diced green pepper
¼ cup diced pimiento
1 recipe baking powder biscuit dough

Arrange chicken, green beans and ham in alternate layers in 1½ quart buttered casserole. Simmer Carnation in sauce-pan over low heat to just below boiling. Mix cheese with seasonings, green pepper and pimiento, then add to warm Carnation. Stir over low heat until cheese is melted, 2-3 minutes. Pour over vegetables in casserole. Top with 2" unbaked biscuits. Bake in a very hot oven (450°F) about 15 minutes, or until biscuits are brown.

Try This Quickie Recipe for Hot Days

Cover-Up Salmon Can Be Prepared and Broiled In a Few Minutes

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Keep this recipe in mind for those dog days when you don't want to heat up your kitchen for any length of time, but still want to give your family at least one hot dish for lunch or supper. We call it Cover-up Salmon. It's quickly put together, then broiled in a matter of minutes.

When we tried this entree, Alice McComb—one of the best cooks we know—was helping us test recipes. Alice immediately went to work on a variation of our salmon recipe, and we are giving you her version because it has a delightful added touch.

This dish is frankly fancy looking, but don't let appearances mislead you. It is filling enough for the heartiest male appetite. Under the mask of mayonnaise there is a generous serving of the salmon.

There are so many appropriate accompaniments to Cover-up Salmon. Here are four of them that are particularly suitable in warm weather.

1. Bundles of whole green beans (home-cooked or canned) marinated in a vinaigrette sauce. To make the sauce just mix olive or other salad oil, vinegar, a suspicion of dry mustard, salt and freshly ground pepper. The beans should be cold, of course, and at serving time may be topped with thin rings of onion.

2. A relish of whole-kernel corn, finely diced celery and sweet red or green pepper in an old-fashioned dressing of vinegar, sugar, salt and freshly ground pepper.

3. Drained bundles of canned or frozen cooked asaragus "tied" with strips of canned pimiento.

4. Thin slices of fluted cucumber and sprigs of water cress.

SALMON QUICKIE. Takes no time at all to prepare.

COVER-UP SALMON

Ingredients: One 1-pound can red salmon, 4 slices bread, 1 tablespoon lemon or lime juice, cup mayonnaise.

Method: Open salmon can at one end; carefully turn out salmon in one piece. Cut salmon crosswise, into 4 slices. Use empty salmon can to cut each slice of bread into rounds. Place bread rounds on broiler rack to toast lightly on one side. Place salmon slices, using wide spatula, on untoasted side of bread rounds; sprinkle with lemon juice. Place on broiler rack with surface of food about 3 inches below heat. Broil 5 to 8 minutes, or until salmon is heated through. Watch so as not to scorch and adjust rack or heat if necessary. Cover top and sides of salmon with mayonnaise; broil 2 to 3 minutes longer. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Alice's Variation: Place a thin round of onion on top of salmon before putting under broiler. Sprinkle mayonnaise with paprika before putting under broiler. When salmon rounds are ready, garnish center top with capers. Serve for lunch or supper on a dinner plate; place tomato slice on each side of salmon round; top each tomato slice with half a hard-cooked egg and surround with shredded lettuce.

For dessert with Cover-up Salmon, we suggest a refreshing fresh fruit course. You might serve cantaloupe rings filled with fresh blueberries or blackberries. Or sliced fresh peach halves spinkled with a little finely diced preserved (syrup-packed) ginger. Or just offer big slices of plain icy-cold watermelon!

Ten Handicapped Crawford Children To Be Sent to Camp

BUCYRUS—Ten Crawford County handicapped children between the ages of 7 and 17 will be sent to Camp Pittinger in Seneca County next month as a project of the County Crippled Children's Society, Paul Downend, Bucyrus, society president, announced today.

The children, representing all sections of the county, will attend during two camp sessions. Part of them will be in attendance from Aug. 1 to 14 and the others from Aug. 15 to 29. Downend pointed out that the camp is under trained supervision at all times.

Contributions to the fund by county residents this year totaled $3,295 of which 76 per cent remains in the county for crippled children's work while the remainder goes to a national fund for research, education and service.

TICKET SUPPLY

DENTON, Tex. (UP) — Police figured a new supply of 25,000 parking meter violation tickets would last them for "a little while." The city's population is 21,000.

OUT OF SEASON

MADISON, Wis. — (UP) — Airman Gilbert Schack hooked one of the rarest catches ever made in this area while fishing from a railroad trestle over Lake Monona. It was a 31-pound, 54-inch sturgeon. But the sturgeon season wasn't open yet, and Schack had to turn the fish over the the conservation department.

The 136-day eruption of Kilauea volcano in 1952 was the longest eruption in recorded history, says the National Geographic Society.

Wedding Chimes Safe, Just Out for Repairing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The wedding chimes disappeared from the Church of the Immaculate Conception and it was assumed that somebody had stolen them.

Police were notified by the Rev. Victor Bazzanella and a search was started.

But the priest himself solved the mystery a few hours later.

He said he was informed his own parishioners had the chimes taken out for repairs and had forgotten to tell him.

Broiled Turkey Will Gain Wide Favor

Trick to Even Browning Is Turning Bird Often, Brushing With Oil

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Broiling turkey is a kitchen technique that deserves to have wider acceptance. We first got interested in this way of cooking the bird via one of our favorite cookbooks — published early in the century. There we found it featured on at least half a dozen menus. Three of these late-Victorian ways of serving broiled turkey are particularly appealing: with broiled bacon and water cress, grilled sweet potatoes or thin slices of lightly broiled Virginia ham.

If you want to try broiling turkey, get yourself one of the young broiler-fryer turkeys now available. We have used the four- to - five pound (ready-to-cook weight) turkeys with great success, and they are meaty enough to give generous servings.

TO PREPARE the bird for the broiling pan, have it quartered and the neck, wing tips, keel bone and spinal bone removed. Clean in cold water and dry. Before broiling, we like to rub the quartered turkey with a generous amount of olive oil and dust it with paprika; we season with salt and freshly-ground pepper after broiling.

Use the bottom part of the broiling pan without the rack, or some other shallow pan, and place the turkey skin side down on it. The top of the turkey should be 7 to 9 inches from the heat, and the heat or pan should be adjusted so that the turkey begins to brown lightly in about 10 minutes. If it doesn't, your pan is too low or your heat not high enough; or if it is browning too quickly, your pan will have to be lower or your heat decreased. We brush the bird —using a pastry brush—with the fat and drippings in the pan, or add more olive oil if needed. We turn the bird once in a while, according to the way it is coloring, until it is cooked through and the skin is crispy-brown. This takes us about an hour, but a longer time may be necessary. You may use butter, margarine, or some other fat for the turkey, and you may also season with salt and pepper before broiling.

TURKEY. Broiled to a golden brown, it stays hot on an electric glass tray.

If you have an electric-glass tray you will find it perfect for serving. We like to cut the wings from the breast meat, and the drumsticks from the thighs before putting the broiled turkey on the tray; this makes eating easier and also helps family and guests to share their favorite parts. With the tray plugged into a convenient outlet, the turkey stays deliciously hot without drying out.

WE PREFACED a broiled turkey supper recently, with a quick chilled cream of clam soup. To make the soup use a can of New England type clam chowder or a can of vichysoisse, a can of minced clams (about 7-ounce size) and a cup of cream or milk — or a mixture of cream and milk —to start with, and more cream or milk to get the flavor and consistency you like. Let the soup stand in the refrigerator long enough to blend flavors and chill. At serving time, sprinkle each serving with minced chives; or use finely chopped green onion tops—though chives are best.

With the broiled turkey we served curried rice and chutney. To prepare the rice, steam a cup of converted-type rice according to package directions until the water has been absorbed. Toss with 3 tablespoons of butter or margarine and one teaspoon (or more) of curry powder and a handful of pignolia nuts. If pignolias aren't available, use slivered blanched (but not toasted) almonds. Our salad was a variety of greens — lettuce, romaine, escarole, and chicory—with thinly sliced cucumber and French dressing.

We had a frosted cake for dessert and a bowl of cherries. The cherries were floated in ice water in a crystal bowl—a French and Italian way of serving to which we are addicted. When cherries aren't in season, try serving small bunches of grapes this way. You will like the cool way the fruit tastes, fresh from its icy bath, and your guests will admire the glamorous way it looks!

For a simpler menu, serve broiled turkey with corn-on-the-cob, a summer salad and melon.

Driver Thought He Was Being Followed: He Was

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—Anthony B. Balestrieri appeared in traffic court on a speeding charge.

Asked if he had any excuse for his speeding, the motorist replied "I thought I was being followed."

BIBLER

Ronald Bibler of Brush Ridge was elected president for next year at the 54th annual reunion of the Bibler family in Harpster Park Sunday. Other officers are Ralph Wright of Marion, vice president, and Floyd Peters of Meeker, secretary-treasurer. A picnic dinner was followed by a business meeting in the afternoon. Group singing was led by Mrs. Mary Rea and a reading was given by Carolyn Brooks and books were distributed on the history of the Bibler family. The next reunion will be held the third Sunday in July at the same place.

CRABB

The 26th annual reunion of the Daniel Crabb family was held Sunday at Sally Ann Camp near LaRue with 55 in attendance. Relatives were from Shelby, Forest, Lima, LaRue, Morral, Mount Gilead and Prospect. The reunion next year will be held at the same site on the third Sunday in July.

WOOLUM

The 22nd annual reunion of the Woolum family was held Sunday at the Parish Grove Park in Oak Hill, O. Attending from Marion were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Prater of 199 Leader St. Mr. and Mrs. George I. Woolum and daughter Madge, of Bryant St. and Mrs. and Mrs. Howard V. Beveridge and son Orland of near Marion. The reunion will be held at the same site next year on the third Sunday in July.

LONG WAY AROUND

GENEVA, N. Y. (UP)—A wrong-address sent a letter posted in Paris over most of Europe and Asia before it reached its proper destination here. When officials of the Patent Cereals Co. finally received the letter, the envelope showed postmarks of Paris, Hong Kong, Istanbul, Athens and Geneva, N. Y.

Until about the year 1800, imprisonment was not a common method of punishment for crime.

Blue Cross Plan Enrollment Slated

The board of governors of Marion General Hospital has completed arrangements with Central Hospital Service, the "Blue Cross Plan," to sponsor a community enrollment in Marion County, Aug. 3-6. This group is cooperating with representatives from Blue Cross to further the movement in Marion County. Enrollments will be taken by Blue Cross field representatives at the Marion Water Co. office on E. Center St.

Blue Cross hospital service is available to all employed persons. There are two classifications of eligibility:

1. Any person employed in a group of five or more may enroll in a payroll deduction group.

2. Self-employed persons including farmers or those working where there are less than five employes, may enroll in the community non-group plan.

Grain Quotations

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans dropped sharply at the opening on the Board of Trade today in a continuation of the previous session's heavy liquidating movement.

Wheat started ¼ to ¾ lower, September $2.08¼-2.08, corn unchanged to ⅝ lower, September $1.57½, oats ¼ to 1 cent lower, September 72⅞-⅝ and soybeans 4¼ to 10 cents lower, September $2.99½-3.00.

VERY SELECT

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP) — When a man called telephone information and asked for the number of the "Southern Select Board," the operator gave him the number of the Southern Select Beer Co. The beer firm operator eventually found that the man wanted the selective service board.

STILL UP ON HIGH. Despite his 73 years, Frank Ashmun continues his steeplejack work as he prepares to paint flagpole atop the 52-story Terminal Tower in Clevelnad.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market headed higher with a big rush today but lost a great part of its forward momentum by early afternoon.

The steels and oils were in heavy demand with gains going to between 1 and 2 points while the aircrafts were under pressure with losses of that amount.

Trading in the first hour was unusually large at 630,000 shares, and the pace of the entire day was better than two and a half million shares. That compares with 2,510,000 shares traded yesterday in a higher market.

Higher stocks included U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Follansbee Steel, Chrysler, Goodrich, American Telephone, American Tobacco, Vanadium, General Foods, Great Northern Railway, Royal Dutch Petroleum, Texas Co., and U.S. Gypsum.

Lower were Goodall-Sanford, Union Carbide, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Sears Roebuck, Mack Trucks, and Northeast Capital.

$2.90 a Share Earnings Reported by Eaton Firm

Eaton Manufacturing Co. and subsidiaries report for the six months ending June 30, 1954, net earnings after taxes of $5,206,031, which is equivalent to $2.90 per share on the 1,789,942 shares issued and outstanding. Provision for taxes on income amounted to $5,593,644. Net sales for the period were $91,538,158, which compared with sales of $108,963,298 for the first six monts of 1953.

Net profit for the six months ending June 30, 1953, was $5,498,022 or $3.07 per share. Provision for taxes on income for that period was $11,855,493.

C. I. Ochs, chairman of the board, stated that third quarter output would be reduced substantially as a result of vacations for factory employees and shutdowns for model changes. This is in line with the prewar pattern for the automotive parts industry. It is expected that there will be a decided upturn in production later in the year.

Wildlife Show Scheduled for Crawford Fair

BUCYRUS — A wildlife exhibit, scheduled as a central action of the first Sportsman's Show to be held at the Crawford County fair here, will be sponsored by the Crawford County Conservation League.

In addition to the conservation league exhibits, there will be displays by the Divide Soil Conservation District, showing the cause of erosion and measures taken to prevent soil loss on farms.

Included in the conservation league's exhibits will be displays of native wild animals, including raccoon, fox squirrel, fox, rabbit, pheasant, woodchuck, mallard duck and opossum. There also will be tanks of native fish of both game and rough fish and some turtles.

In the Service

Pvt. Richard H. Sprow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Sprow of Bucyrus, recently graduated with honors from a radio communications course conducted by the 9th Infantry Division of Ft. Dix, N.J. He was instructed in sending and receiving the international code by use of radio during the 13-week school. A former employe of the Isthmanian Steamship Co. in New York City, he entered the Army in January of this year and is now serving with the 870th Field Artillery Battalion His wife, Jane, resides in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Members of the Whetstone Corkers 4H Club discussed making a 4H booth for the Marion County fair and planned a swimming party at a recent meeting in the Whetstone Grange Hall. Next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Judy Klingel.

DON'T PHONE — WRITE

BURLESON, Tex. — (UP) — Whenever Mrs. Alma Chambers and Mrs. J. V. Tye, who live only a block apart, want to call each other, they have to dial long distance. Mrs. Chambers is served by the Fort Worth exchange, Mrs Tye is on the Burleson exchange.

News of Granges

MOTGOMERY

Annual inspection of Montgomery Grange was conducted Tuesday night by Elmer Williams, county grange deputy.

Fair booth committees were named and voting for delegates to the state convention was held.

The lecture hour, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Snare, lecturer, including a reading by Mrs. Cletus Uhl, a paper on farming by O. M. Roux with supplements by Cletus Uhl and Leroy Anderson, a reading on college by George Wenig and a piano solo by Mss. Grayce Kennedy.

Mr. Williams gave a short talk and Miss Eloise Snare was awarded second prize in a state essay contest. Refreshments were served by the Home Economics Committe and Mr. and Mrs. Berlin Ferguson.

Bowling Green Grange will entertain the girls and boys 4-H clubs of Bowling Green and their counselors, Peggy Sarter and Kenneth Culver, at a meeting Friday at 8 30 p.m. in the Grange hall. The sewing contest for subordinate and juvenile members, will be held and home made ice cream and cake will be served.

THE HARD WAY

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. — (UP) — Irked by a series of robberies, David Pietsky left the key dangling outside Later his place was broken into again and he found a note on his deck: "No thanks—Don't need one."

100 ACRES, half tillable, balance in potential building sites. Fine old home with two baths, nice kitchen with fireplace and Dutch oven, four bedrooms, (lots of closet space), new forced hot water heating system, storm sash and screens. Tenant house of six rooms, with water system, barn, granary, etc. located between Hoover and Delaware dams on the Worthington-New Haven hard road at Alum Creek. This property is the summer home of Col. Poston. Half the crops are included at $25,000. Might consider land contract. We think the value of this well improved tract should double in a short time. Drive out and look it over. The Postons will welcome you.

375 ACRES, ten miles from Marion. Nine room modern home, extra nice, big modern barns and machinery storage space, new copper clad fence all over, private lake, 90 acres corn, 70 acres beans. Half included at less than $75,000. Would trade for investment property. Will finance $40,000. Better see this. It's the right kind.

100 ACRES, Worthington-New Haven pike, substantial buildings, good farm land, house modern except furnace, $9,450.

50 ACRES, half in corn, some heavy timber. Nine room house, full basement, barn 40x50, garage, crib, granary, fences good, running water, buildings need repair, price $6500, half crops included. Part cash, balance easy terms. A good chance to start.

NEAR GALION, 175 acres, modern eight room house, fine barn and outbuildings, equipped for Grade A milk, full line of almost new machinery, 40 head of registered cattle, hogs, chickens, ducks, and geese, as well as half of growing crops. Under $50,000.

YOU SAID THAT BEFORE, KAREN ...THAT YOU'VE HURT HEIDI AGAIN! WHAT DO YOU MEAN?
SHORTLY AFTER HEIDI WAS BORN WE HAD AN UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT, DR. MORGAN! IT WOULD BE BEST IF MADAME WOULD NOT DISCUSS IT! IT IS VERY UPSETTING TO HER!
IT WAS NOT AN ACCIDENT, CLARISSE! YOU SAID SO YOURSELF!
IF YOU FEEL LIKE TALKING ABOUT IT, KAREN, I'D BE GLAD TO LISTEN!
WELL, I—I—
I THINK CLARISSE IS RIGHT, REX! IT WOULD BE BEST IF I FORGOT ALL ABOUT IT!

Postal Worker's Idea Worth Bonus of $594

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP) — A postal clerk, Merritt R. Sperry, was sitting in the shade on his own time at the Lake of the Ozarks when the idea came to him. That was in 1952.

Now he's $594 richer for working out a plan that promises to save the postoffice department $10,000 a year on the job of sorting letter-size mail in Kansas City.

Sperry's plan went into operation in Kansas City in March, 1953, but his award was delayed until recently. The actual amount paid him was $725, but taxes cut it somewhat.

The 53-year-old postal clerk was asked what he planned to do with the money awarded him by the U. S. Postoffice department.

"First, I'm going down and have a big steak dinner," he said.

OH, HECK!

FORT HOOD, Tex. — (UP) — Whenever someone in D Company of the 1st Armored Division's 25th Armored Battalion hollers "heck" two soldiers come running. One is M-Sgt. Robert Heck from University City, Mo., and the other is Pvt. George Heck of Garnaville, La.

Laughing Gas for Bees Can't Be Recommended

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Giving honeybees a laughing bee by gassing them with nitrous oxide — laughing gas—as a subsitutuion for moving them to new locations in seed fields, is discouraged by University of California bee specialists at the Davis campus.

Gassing has been tried to keep pollen-gathering activities of honeybees localized because they normally extend their activities from the hive after their first few days in a new location. It has proven unsuccessful in California tests.

Field trials by John E. Eckert, university apicurist, show that gassed bees travel just as far as their untreated kin although they are disorganized for several days. The bees recovered consciousness eight to 10 minutes after gassing, Eckert said, but took two or three days to regain normal activity, resulting in the loss of nectar-gathering and pollinating services.

Fungi depend on other organisms for their food materials, but often develop complicated chemical processes to digest them.

INSECT-O-LITE QUICKLY KILLS GERMS EVERYWHERE

Wonderful For Closets!

Just what the housewife needs to clear her closet rying about your clothes of moths. No more worbeing eaten by moths if you have an INSECT-O-LITE vapor lamp. Use it in any room of the house to rid your home of insects.

Terrific For Living Rooms!

Use your lamp to destroy carpet beetles and other annoying insects in your living room. Read your evening paper without swatting flies and dodging mosquitoes. Enable yourself to relax in your easy chair and enjoy your evenings at home.

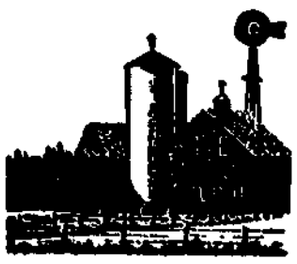
Marvelous For Bedrooms!

Have no more trouble sleeping nights because of flies, mosquitoes and other antagonizing insects. Just plug your INSECT-O-LITE in your bedroom before you retire and you can sleep the night through without being bothered. This lamp makes no more light than the conventional "slumber type" lamp.

Just Grand For Offices!

Be free to concentrate on your job, whether it be office, factory or some type of commercial establishment. You can't concentrate with flies and mosquitoes bothering you. Destroy all flying and crawling insects in your place of business with an INSECT-O-LITE vapor lamp.

Perfect For The Farm!



This INSECT-O-LITE vapor lamp is ideal for the farmer to clear his poultry houses, barns and other farm buildings of lice, mange mites, flies and all bothersome insects. This lamp is absolutely harmless to humans and animals.

Destroys Insects Quickly Thoroughly and Safely With INSECT-O-LITE

This wonderful lamp can be used by anyone in a number of places. The housewife can use it in her closet or attic to kill moths... she can use it in her living room to kill carpet beetles and flies... it's ideal for the porch or patio to kill antagonizing mosquitoes and other insects... and it can be used to rid her basement of bothersome silverfish, roaches, spiders, gnats or termites.

This "magic" lamp is of value to men in their respective jobs, whether it be offices, factories, groceries or other commercial establishments. The Insect-O-Lite is just the thing to clear barns and poultry houses of lice, mange mites, flies and all other insects.

With this Insect-O-Lite vapor lamp, there is no swatting, no spraying, no work! All you have to do is plug the lamp in wherever you need it and it is on duty 24 hours a day, killing all insects within a radius of 15,000 cubic feet. It is completely automatic and fully guaranteed.

As the bulb heats, it vaporizes the crystals, giving off powerful chemical vapors. These vapors instantly kill DDT-resistant flies, mosquitoes, roaches, moths and all insects that take the joy out of living and the vapors are absolutely harmless to humans and pets. There are few things as annoying as insects. The handsome, urn type wall units kill all insects, flying or crawling.

This attractive, insect destroying lamp, can also be used as an odorizer with bath salts. It can be used as a vaporizer in a sick room. These amazing Insect-O-Lites have many valuable uses. They operate on 110-125 Volt AC or DC current and they give off no more light than a "slumber-type" lamp. They are attractive in design and choice of colors. They come with a 6 foot ivory cord. The insect killing Insectane crystals last from 30 to 60 days, depending on use. Refill kits may be purchased at a very modest cost.

The Insect-O-Lite Vapor Lamp is fully guaranteed for life. Be able to enjoy life with no insects to bother you.

● Thanks very much Folks in Texas are pleased with results of Insect-O-Lite.

F C. Goodnough

● I have a small grocery store and I have an Insect-O-Lite. I used it last summer and liked it very much. Can I buy a few more?

Mrs. Wm. Shackelford

● The response to my sales talk has been terrific even though this is December. The 13 Insect-O-Lites I ordered were sold with only 15 presentations. If I can sell 13 without really trying, I should really make some money when I start pushing them.

Robert H Grimes

● I have used Insect-O-Lite on several occasions to fumigate my pigeon coops and have found it to be everything the company claims it to be... economical, effective, safe and everlasting. In my opinion Insect-O-Lite is the ideal insect control device.

Jan Marsh

● Several weeks ago we bought one of your Insect-O-Lites and installed it in our kitchen and found it to be very effective in ridding our house of flies and other insects. We have a cattle farm and naturally the barn and house were infested with flies, but thanks to this appliance they have entirely disappeared.

Mrs Roy Huddle

● One of your agents sold me an Insect-O-Lite during my vacation and it has proven so practical and effective that I would like to place this order for six more to use in my home, barber shop and give them to several friends. Anything that can destroy waterbugs is certainly worth the price.

John R. Wright

● This is to certify that I used your Insect-O-Lite in our basement all during the summer of 1952. My wife and I sat down there for hours at a time, often, in the hot summer weather. We also have a dog and two cats who spent much time in the basement. The only ill effect appeared to be on insects which, in a very dead way, littered the floor.

Sgt. Ness on Furlough

Family Returns to Galion After Life in Cold North

GALION—"We thought it was spring in March and April when the thermometer read zero nearly every day," relates Mrs. Robert W. Ness who is in Galion with her family after two years on frozen Hudson Bay, Canada. The thermometer many times read 40 degrees below zero on the Bay.

Mrs. Ness and her husband, Master Sergeant Ness, both natives of Galion, are visiting their homes here while he is having a month's leave. They are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Ness and her sisters at the Plack home and other relatives Mrs Ness is the former Catherine Plack. Sgt. Ness will report to Fort Belvoir, Va., his home station, at the end of his leave.

"We loved the experience and found it wonderful place for our children, especially the boys," Mrs. Ness said in an interview.

"OF COURSE THE weather was severe, the coldest being 46 degrees below zero while we were there, but we had comfortable quarters with steam heat," Mrs. Ness said.

Sgt Ness went to Canada for cold weather testing for the U S. Army and was stationed at Fort Churchill on Hudson Bay, a Canadian fort It is located 1,000 miles north of Winnipeg, Manitoba, and is beyond the tree line.

"The body of ice was nearly all gone on the water when we left June 20, but the first European boat was not expected to land until July 24," Mrs Ness explained when she said that boats from nearly every European country come into Hudson Bay during the two summer months The little town of Churchill where the Ness family lived, near the fort, is one of the largest grain elevators in Canada

The hospital there serves Eskimos and Indians from a large area in Canada Many of the cases are flown in by plane, Mrs Ness said Churchill is one of the few outposts in that area There are a few little stores, Mrs Ness relates, including a small hardware store and a Hudson Bay store At the latter, the Indians and Eskimos trade by barter instead of money, exchanging their furs for supplies

"ONE TRAIN CAME in twice a week, taking two and a half days to make the trip from Winnepeg because it makes frequent stops at even small shacks with supplies and because the tracks have to be cleaned so often from the drifting snow," Mrs Ness explained Freight costs are high and this keeps food at a high cost, she said

"I baked much of our own bread as did other women there Bread that is purchased is always frozen, but we found it would get soft as bakery bread in the United States if we warmed it a few minutes in the oven," Mrs Ness told She said that fresh vegetables when obtainable, were never fresh and powdered milk was used.

"Toward the end of last year, the Air Force was flying in fresh milk and this really was a treat," Mrs Ness said

"Hunting and fishing are good there, and much game is eaten The Pparmigan, a small bird is very good, but only the breast can be eaten," Mrs Ness said

She said that they had their own homemade deep freezes on their porches These were boxes which the men made Food stayed frozen except in the summer months

"We dressed for the cold in Parkas and wind pants which the Army supplies for the soldiers and their families" Mrs Ness explained "In that locality there is what is known as a 'wind chill" It is tabulated every day with the temperature and when it reaches 2100, flesh will freeze in a matter of seconds We had to watch for a 'wind chill' and cover our faces with woolen scarves when it prevailed," Mrs Ness relates.

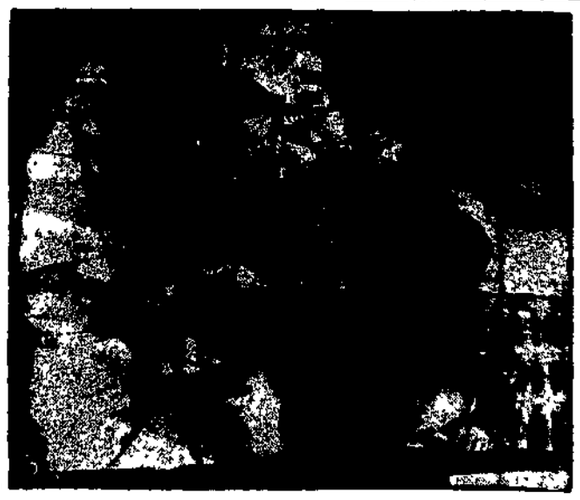
"THE BOYS ENJOYED the ice They spent much time skating In school they both belonged to hockey teams which are organized there as Little League baseball teams are organized here," Mrs Ness said

She said that both she and her husband taught Sunday school classes in the little chapel at the fort and that she sang in the choir Living was similar to towns in the United States, with PTA organization, Boy Scout troops, missionary society and a woman's club

Ness was sent to Fort Churchill in July, 1952, Mrs. Ness and children, Gary, 11½, Dick 10 and Susanne 9, went in September of that year. For two weeks after they arrived, it rained continually, and then the snow came, Mrs Ness recalls The ground is never bare again until June. From September to Christmas there are blizzards From January to May the sun is so bright on the snow that everyone must wear colored glasses to keep from becoming snow blinded She said that the nothern lights, when it is clear can be seen every night in the winter

"This is a spectacular show of lights, lavender and light green predominating, that dance across the sky in many different patterns, always changing," Mrs Ness said

"The snow is very deep and in large drifts It is dry and hard enough to be walked on The air is so dry that one time it caused a mahogany coffee table to split across the top," Mrs Ness declared.



$80,385 FOR FATHER'S DEATH. Five children of Mrs Eva Patton (left) gather around attorney James McArdle in their Pittsburgh home as he presents the family with an $80,385 check from the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, settlement for death of their father, John He was pinned down and killed by four runaway gondola cars Mrs Patton said she will use part of the money to buy a home

SHE COMMENDED the schools and the Canadian teachers They are strict and advanced, she said Manitoba province is one of the highest, scholastically, of the Canadian provinces

While at Churchill, Mrs Ness had her own "career" She was afternoon announcer on the radio station, CHFC, besides having two personal programs One was a daily children's story hour and another was poetry with musical background.

Since Ness has been in service he and his family have gone from one extreme to the other — from the tropics of Panama and Trinidad, with a few weeks at Puerto Rico on the way back to this country to the frozen north He has been stationed at Andrews Field Md besides Fort Belvoir his home station When he served for a time in Nevada, the family remained in Virginia

Problem Drivers Will Have Choice Of School or Jail

NEW YORK (AP) — From now on, the city's problem drivers are going to get "the works' the scientific way

Chief Magistrate John M Murtagh said yesterday that all persistent traffic violators will be given a choice — six sessions of a night driving school and a sentence based on their performance there—or a heavy sentence on the spot.

Murtagh said the new school, scheduled to open Oct. 1, will give the drivers "everything" including psychiatric examinations driving lessons and safety lectures

The problem drivers, Murtagh explained are the ones who keep having accidents who are chronic speeders who keep running through red lights"

West Germany Builds Up Potential War Industries

By NORMAN LINDHURST

BONN, (NANA) — American military production experts have just completed a survey of West German industry which shows that the Bonn republic could get into full-scale armaments production within 18 months after the go-ahead is given.

The specialists said that although it is not generally realized, so potent is West German industry that American producers for some time have been relying on West German factories to fill some gaps in U. S. defense production.

West Germany has a solid base for quantity production of almost every item of military equipment which would be needed by German forces, short of atomic weapons, guided missiles and aircraft.

American experts said that Germany could begin producing many military items almost immediately. Some heavy items, such as tanks, might take up to three years but the U. S survey team said there was no doubt that the booming Bonn economy could be turning out all the rifles, light and heavy machine guns, antitank weapons, and light artillery needed by the German force within 18 months at the outside.

IT WOULD TAKE considerably longer, perhaps five years, to put West Germany into military jet aircraft production ina big way. Present occupation controls prohibit Germany from manufacturing or even operating aircraft of any type.

Germany's best prewar aircraft production brains including Willi Messerschmidt, Claude Dornier and Ernst Heinkel have been planning the revival of German aircraft production but they will have to start from the ground up.

Germany agreed in the Bonn peace contract and European Defense Community treaties to make no effort to produce nuclear weapons or guided missiles. At present there is no enthusiasm on the part of German political or industrial leaders for attempting such costly and complicated armaments production even if Germany gained possession of the necessary scientific and technical data.

American war production expert said that, on the other hand, West Germany could convert almost from one day to the next, a wide segment of civilian production to military output.

GERMAN TECHNICAL genius already has developed a number of new military items for possible adoption by the new German forces.

This equipment includes a family of military trucks able to move at high speed over the roughest terrain, ultra-mobile communications equipment, an infrared-ray searchlight with a range of 10 miles and a midget Geiger counter for troop issue.

In addition, German armaments experts have designs for a number of new weapons, including machine guns and artillery, which they will not be able to test until Allied occupation controls are lifted.

German plants have supplied huge steel castings for the construction of 17 giant forging and extrusion presses built to speed up American jet aircraft production. The steel castings ranged in size from 50 to 150 tons. West Germany has been exporting machine tools to a number of key American aircraft plants, including Curtiss, and Pratt and Whitney.

Some 20 per cent of German specialized steel output is going into United States defense production.

The German precision optics and chemical industries also are important contributors to American defense production. For instance, the Schott optical firm at Mainz is exporting to American defense plants almost its entire production.

Nearly a dozen West German firms have assisted the United States in overcoming bottlenecks in electronics production. The German plants have furnished American producers with deposited carbon resistors, precision wire-bound resistors, selenium rectifiers and finely enameled resistance wire.

TO HELP WEST GERMANY get military production in gear, the United States has been placing an increasing number of orders for military equipment with German firms.

Some of the equipment, including ordnance, communications and quartermaster items, is being ordered by the United States Army and Air Force. Other contracts have been let under the U. S. offshore procurement purchasing program to supply the NATO forces. The U. S., for example, awarded a large contract last week to the West Berlin firms of Lorenz and Telefunken to produce communications equipment for NATO.

The American survey team pointed out that in the 10 years since the war Germany has rebuilt, expanded and modernized its industry.

"Germany is now in even better shape than it was under the Nazis to support defense production," an American expert reported.

The Ruhr, hub of German industry, last year produced 8.41 per cent of the world's coal, 6.96 per cent of world's pig iron, 6.52 per cent of world's crude steel, $1,400,000,000 worth of textiles, $1-100,000,000 of chemicals and $2,000,000,000 of machine tools.

Drawing the Line

With the difference that the line in Indochina has been drawn at the 17th parallel and was drawn at the 38th in Korea, the situation is the same.

The military power of Red China, backed by military supplies from Russia, has been stabilized at an ideological frontier This drawing of lines is one of the oldest practices in a world whose people always have been split up by the claims and counter - claims of their defenders and conquerors. Compromise is the aim of diplomacy.

It irritates absolutists, who believe everything can be forced to a showdown by violence; they are irritated about Indochina, and they were irritated about Korea. The United States and its allies compromised with the Red Chinese and North Koreans when both sides grew tired of bleeding and dying in a war neither side could win without greater sacrifices than it was willing to make. France and its allies have now made a deal with the Viet Minh and the Red Chinese in Indochina

The deal has been approved by the United States, which will take a leading part in setting up a security system in southeastern Asia to protect Thailand, Burma, the Philippines, British Malaya and Indonesia These vital countries are inside the "freedom line" and will not be surrendered. So are Cambodia, Laos and a sizeable part of Viet Nam. The two most vital peninsulas on the Asiatic coast have been barred to the Communists.

Along with evidence that the Communist conspiracy is gobbling the world, there is evidence that the drawing of "freedom lines" is isolating the conspirators far more successfully than anyone would have believed it could be done a few years ago.

Blair Moody Tried It

The premature death of Blair Moody in his early fifties has brought about an extensive review of his brief political career as the successor to Michigan's Sen. Vandenberg. For one who was in politics so short a time — although he was hoping to win a senatorial nomination in Michigan's Democratic primary this year —Moody made a large mark.

Before he accepted a governor's appointment to represent Michigan in the U.S. Senate, Moody was one of the country's best newspapermen, with a political beat in Washington. He had been a general reporter and a sports writer before he specialized in politics in 1933, but he quickly became proficient in a new field.

It was his extraordinary grasp of what was going on in Washington in those New Deal days that seemed to qualify him for a senatorial appointment after Vandenberg's death in 1951. He was equipped not only by observation and experience but by inclination to become active in partisan politics .

But as soon as he got into partisan politics, he immediately became involved in the complexities which cause newspapermen to suspect that politics becomes a game that politicians play for their own amusement, often at the expense of public welfare. With all respect for his accomplishments in a new field, Blair Moody, a distinguished newspaperman, was not a distinguished politician.

This is a matter that is endlessly fascinating to newspapermen — what would happen if the critics became the criticized. On the basis of what happened to Blair Moody, it would be disenchanting for all concerned.

Size of the Conspiracy

Further reason to think about the Communist menace as an international conspiracy has been furnished by the conspiracy, itself. "The Agitator's Notebook," published by the central committee of the Soviet Communist party, shows Communist members in every country of the world. Yet, all told, there are fewer than 30 million Communists.

In Russia, 7 million Communists dominate 200 million people. In China, now the most important victim of the conspiracy, an even smaller minority of Communists controls 900 million people. The conspiracy claims a membership of 60,000 in the United States, which is slightly higher than the estimate of the FBI.

Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin has caused this information to be published in The Congressional Record, explaining that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has been deeply interested in the size of the Communist conspiracy. It is the heart of the problem that the United States is trying to solve in behalf of the dignity of all men — how a tiny minority can exert worldwide influence. Central direction is the explanation.

The free world cannot match Communist discipline. Yet, its disciples also are found in every country of the world, needing only central direction to give them overwhelming strength. The United States is trying to coordinate freedom's counterattack on the Communist conspiracy. That is the aim of its foreign-aid program.

Thanks to the G I Bill of Rights, says the Veterans Administration, the former soldiers of World War II are the best-educated generation in American history. Smart enough, it is hoped, to keep their sons from having to earn their educations the same way.

Hour of Tragedy

By David Lawrence

Indochina Peace May Well Be Precursor of War

Communist colonialism is about to be substituted for French colonialism in Indochina. That's the story in brief of the biggest defeat the free world has suffered since the bungling of the Truman-Acheson administration lost China through the withdrawal of moral support from the Chinese Nationalist government at a critical moment.

Now 10,000,000 people are to be handed over to the Communists in Viet Nam and another 12,000,000 will come under Communist control in a few months in the rest of the area, along with the rich rice-growing delta and other natural resources of tremendous importance in the march of Communist imperialism.

The governments of France and Britain helped to engineer what amounts to a fateful surrender. The United States is disassociating itself from the settlement but, in deference to its allies, has given the wholly superfluous promise that it will not attempt to disturb the agreement.

"Peace," said Secretary Dulles at the opening of the Geneva Conference on April 28 last, "is always easy to achieve — by surrender. Unity is also easy to achieve — by surrender. The hard task, the task that confronts us, is to combine peace and unity with freedom."

THERE WILL BE signs of relief that the eight-year war in Indochina is over. There were similar sighs of relief when the Korean armistice was signed last year and, indeed, there were similar expressions of popular satisfaction in 1938 when the Chamberlain government made the deal with Hitler whereby a large segment of Czechoslovakian territory was surrendered.

Then it was that many Britons said: "After all, why should we worry about a few million Czechs?" But in a year they were fighting in a world war to retrieve that mistake.

Today in many parts of the free world, including this country, the same sort of comment is heard: "Why should we worry about a few million Asians?"

If the peace of the world is disturbed by reason of an arrogant action of the Communist imperialists as they become convinced that there never will be any real resistance to further aggression, then it will not be a few million Asians but many millions of Europeans and Americans who could become involved in a global conflict.

THE DEFEAT incurred by the free world cannot be glossed over in spite of the fact that, whenever any fighting comes to an end in any area of the world, there is always a tendency to feel that some progress has been made.

The stoppage of fighting in 1918 and in 1945 followed a clear victory in each case by the Allies against the aggressor.

The Indochina truce, like the Korean armistice, is not a victory but a readiness to compromise with aggressors and to sanction their continued hold on many million more people who are to become enslaved.

Were there any alternatives? The responsibility for what has happened must be placed on the peace-at-any-price politicians in France who constantly undermined the morale of their own troops and gave the Communists their opportunity to convert a haphazard and weak movement of nationalist rebels into a full-fledged military operation wherein Red China supplied much manpower and Soviet Russia furnished much equipment to thwart the highly trained French army.

Throughout Asia the white man now will lose face. The nations which might have been encouraged to become our allies may hesitate.

THE CHANCES of making an effective Southeast Asia pact depend entirely on whether the French government means to complete the scuttling of Indochina and whether the British will wait until the conflagtion touches Malaya before begging the United States to save them.

Indochina could have been kept from the Communists if the French had been willing to internationalize the war. Outwardly they wanted American military aid but actually they feared it would prolong their own participation.

Premier Mendes-France came into office to liquidate an already bad situation. The French nation had wearied of eight years of war and was ready to call it quits. The premier announced to the world that he was ready to make a deal — and the Communists exacted a high price.

So now, with Red China in the process of virtually annexing North Korea in defiance of the U.N. resolution declaring her an aggressor and with a virtual annexation of the rich areas of Indochina, the Communist coalition is advancing to its biggest triumph.

THE NET EFFECT on Japan and on Indonesia, Burma and Thailand will be as discouraging as it will be to the enslaved peoples of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania and Esthonia — all of which just a few years ago were free countries.

Plainly the trend in Europe or the part of American's allies is toward further surrender to Communist imperialism. This is ominous because some day the Allies will wake up to the imperative need of taking a stand.

The Communists will think it is a bluff, as they have regarded every action of recent months. In the end, a third World War can come because there will be no way to avoid a showdown of arms.

The Indochina truce, like the so-called peace at Munich, may not prove a harbinger of peace but a precursor of war.

It is an hour of great tragedy for the free world.

Rhee Chafing From Lack of Attention

By Ray Falk

TOKYO When Korean President Syngman Rhee mounts the steps of the White House next Monday, he will be bringing a long list of complaints and demands for President Eisenhower.

The fiery little Korean wants to add another 15 divisions to his 20-division ROK army but the U.S. Far East Command feels the ROKs have just about reached their maximum strength.

South Korea, with a population of 20 million is scraping the bottom of the eligible manpower pool.

Further Rhee's 20 divisions are equipped from head to toe with American equipment. Not only is Korea not financially able to outfit its own army, but the U.S. is indirectly paying for its upkeep.

It costs almost as much to put a Korean division into the field as to build up an American division, U.S. officers say. Money-wise the U.S. would save little.

From a long range point of view, the generals argue, a Korean division would have limited use in American strategy. Such a division can fight in Korea, it might fight in some other sector of Asia but there is no sense sending it to Europe.

At the same time, Washington is giving serious consideration to a suggested plan that at least one, and perhaps two, divisions be withdrawn from Korea and redeployed in Japan or on Okinawa.

RHEE DOESNT LIKE this one bit. He wants unification of Korea. That just isn't in the cards, in the opinion of the best informed American government officials in Tokyo. There are no indications that the Communists will reopen hostilities in Korea and the Pentagon is not about to send the Eighth Army to the Yalu River.

The Korean president and his henchmen have often threatened to march north by themselves, "forcing the Eighth Army to go with us." That is much more a threat than a possibility.

Rhee's ideas of reconstruction differ greatly from the American program. By taking his case directly to President Eisenhower over the heads of the American experts in Korea, Rhee hopes to change the course of his country's rehabilitation.

The Korean gentleman wants to turn his country into a modern industrial nation overnight. He wants power - making apparatus, new factories and rehabilitation of fisheries and farming. He opposes the import of consumer goods.

The foreign operations administration men say that Rhee's vision is still many years away. Consumer goods must be brought in first; industries can be developed only slowly. For example, a fertilizer plant wouldn't produce for two years during which time it would aggravate inflation.

ONE AMERICAN who has worked with the Koreans on government and industrial levels summed it up his way:

"The ROKs are industrially and commercially mature. They are inexperienced, but they have a strong feeling of patriotism and are exremely proud. It is difficult to guide them or to tell them what has to be done. That goes for big problems in Seoul as well as for little problems in the provinces.

"The Koreans would rather have our money and let us foreigners go home. As much as they need money, they need technical assistance even more. They need guidance on such fundamentals as to where to put a factory and what it's output should be."

There are several rehabilitaion agencies operating in Korea. This American added "Although the Koreans are economically naive, they're good poker players, playing off one foreign agency against another."

But U.S. officials are cracking down. When Rhee refused to permit the Japanese to bid on certain projects the U.S. withdrew the funds until the old man changed his mind.

Rhee hates the Japanese, but the Japanese can sometimes submit lower bids because they are so close to Korea. Washington thus can help two causes with one dollar—the rehabilitation of Korea and support of the floundering Japanese economy.

Korea's president has justifiable complaints when he points to the meager contributions from the United Nations. The U.N.'s Korean Rehabilitation Administration budget for the fiscal year 1954 called for expenditures of 130 million dollars. So far, only about 30 million has been received, with the U.S. putting up its full share, the United Kingdom oversubscribed. Other nations are badly behind in their paments.

Rhee also has a psychological reason for making the long journey to Washington: He feels neglected. No one has paid much attention to him or to his country during the last 10 months.

Nothing pleased the old gentleman more than when last year John Foster Dulles, the secretary of state of the great United States, traveled all the way to Seoul to play up to the President of Korea.

If Eisenhower will make his guest feel important and leave with him he impression that he is being treated as an equal, many of the old man's complaints are likely to melt away.

RHEE IS BELIEVED to be 79 years old, although not even he is sure of his exact age. Stubborn, patriotic and somewhat dictatorial, he has unusual powers of recovery. To American ambassadors during the last five years he has often appeared to be falling apart and to be showing his age, only to show signs of alertness and energy in times of crisis.

For years Rhee tramped from office to office in Washington, telling whoever would listen his dream about a liberated—from the Japanese—Korea. He was regarded as a nuisance and Washington was a town of closed doors and turned backs. Now he will visit the capital as the guest of the President of the United States.

The triumph of the occasion will not be lost on the old gentleman from Seoul.

Cause and Effect

By TRUMAN TWILL

It says in Popular Science Monthly that the experts have quit trying to figure out the "car pox" which had many of us in a tizzy last spring—that their best guess is mass hysteria.

Meanwhile it keeps saying here and there that the flying-saucer madness keeps recurring and that wise-offs are certain this, too, is some form of popular aberation that keeps claiming new victims all the time.

You can give odds on it without flinching that whatever comes along in the years ahead which the iron-heads have no explanation for will be blamed on mass hysteria. It has taken the place of evils, witches, hexers and assorted gods and goddesses as the favorite cover-up for ignorance.

If the boys who are supposed to know don't have any answer and do not want to be disturbed by embarrassing questions, they announce firmly with glint in their eyes that they do not want to be bored by any further nonsense because John Q. Public has popped his cork, collectively speaking, and is seeing things again.

The trouble with John Q. is that he never is sure in his own mind that he isn't seeing things, he is that impressionable. It's like the old story of the king who walked down the street in his skin and no one dared to comment on his nakedness except one kid who hadn't been let in on the gag that the king, himself, was the one having the hallucinations. He thought he was clothed in golden garments.

Mass hysteria is a wonderful thing. It is an inverted tribute to demos—the masses. Those who credit it for such bafflements as flying saucers and mutilated windshields in automobiles are saying in effect that people are capable of seeing things which do not exist.

People can even see merit in high places where no merit could be found by tireless analysis.

They can see value in Florida real estate. Then they can see no value in Florida real estate. Then they can see value again.

They can be induced to rush in and out of states of mind about the state of the world, to make and unmake heroes and heroines, to go into a condition of mass hysteria because a Lindbergh flies the Atlantic and to go into the same condition with reverse English when he has the courage to live his own life and not turn into a phoney.

Mass hysteria has its uses as well as its abuses. And because it distributes the blame over everybody and does not single out anybody for special attention, it is safer than accusations of witchcraft, although not nearly so handy as devils.

Nothing ever has beaten devils for explaining everything from milk to epidemics-from bad windshields to bad consciences. If we had stuck to devils instead of chasing off after gods named Demos and Hysteria, there never would have been all that scare about "car pox."

After the first few dozen reports, rites would have been performed to appease the glass devil. The devil of the upper atmosphere would have been in charge of flying saucers. There would be red devils—the traditional color—to take care of Communists. These could be scourged systematically and everybody could sleep nights again without wondering if everything would be safe until morning.

Lacking devils, we have nothing to rely on but mass hysteria, which is too ticklish for comfort. Mass hysteria may make glass get funny, but in a Democracy it can't be criticized recklessly.

Another Sad State of Affairs

By MARK DANA

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has analyzed some studies made at the Nebraska Experiment Station, and has sadly concluded that housewives are badly fed. The implication is that women who spend quite a chunk of their time over a cook stove do not eat as much as they should, and certainly not as much as their husbands and teen - aged children. There's a matter of low nutritional count and a shortage of vitamins in what the women do eat, also, and all in all the picture portrayed by these sorrowing governmental agencies is one of Friend Wife sacrificially neglecting herself to feed her brood. (A favorite grandmotherly counsel to young bridges is "Feed the brute, but we're careful in our spelling.")

One can study this grievous condition until the dishes are all washed without coming up with a glib explanation, although it holds food for thought even if the family cook gets little of it. It isn't enough to suggest that Friend Wife does a lot of nibbling all day between meals, for this cumulative stoking would over-match three heavy meals at family eating time. Once or twice a year, a housewife rates a box of chocolates—say on major anniversaries if she can remind hubby in time—but these can kill appetite for victuals for only so long. There may be some housewives "who simply can't fill the India-rubber stomaches of their children and never prepare enough food, or perhaps by the time dinner is ready the distaff appetite has fled. Thus there are varied explanations for this simply terrible situation. One remedy for an under-fed housewife suggests itself—and an occasional woman helps along the suggestion idea. It is for hubby to take her out to dinner once or twice a week and tell her to go the limit on the menu.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Airwave Candor Kids

Arthur Godfrey's recent routine in taking the general public into his confidence over national hook-ups to call attention to bad behavior by members of his cast, and even specifying the nature of the offense is something new in the way of candor.

It can set a trend. We can foresee a ventriloquist stepping out of character to announce "Ladies and gentlemen you will notice that my dummy is out of the act tonight. I wish to be frank and say the bum talked behind my back."

Or maybe hear the head man on Zoo Parade say, "I told you last week that one of my buffaloes was running around with a couple of moose and that if it didn't stop there would be one less buffalo on the air. This is it."

Mr. Godfrey blurted right out to all the nation that "one character connected with this show has been hitting the bottle too much. If anybody is missing you will know that's why." This started the guessing contest of the year. It even increased interest in the Godfrey programs.

Other radio and TV performers may be quick to take the cue. One of these nights Jackie Gleason may step out of the role of the bus driver and say, "Folks, now is the time to let the public know that a certain party in this show stays out all night and rings doorbells. Check the cast at each performance. I may fire the guy any day."

We may hear Warren Hull on "Strike It Rich" say, "Confidentially, a guest scheduled for next week has been hitting the pipe. I may have to make a substitution."

Can't you fancy Art Linkletter at one of his kiddie parties proclaiming, "I have news for you. A certain six-year-old kid who makes with smart cracks with me now and then has been eating too many green apples. It throwed him away off form. If he's off the air next time don't say you weren't notified."

Even Kukla, Fran and Ollie could follow the trend. . . . The dragon is missing. . . . Suspense grows as the program continues without him. . . . Then the fans remember a crack of three previous shows. "There are dragons and dragons, good and bad. The bad ones go off this show. I'm telling you this just in case." (Anything can happen now.)

"Dragnet" can have Jack Webb make an announcement that any crook who misbehaves will be cut out of the hunt. We may even hear a newscaster threaten to drop a sponsor if he doesn't stop at the fifth dry martini.

"I never give up any battle until I am licked and utterly destroyed."—President Eisenhower. . . . You mean a golf opponent has got to take every hole and refuse even to concede a six-inch putt?

Grantland Rice's first New York job was on the old Mail and he made the triumvirate of Rube Goldberg, F.P.A. and Rice, each the sensation of that day when still in their twenties. . . . How many people know that Rube Goldberg began as a sports page cartoonist, satirizing, however, every phase of New York life, and making his "Foolish Questions" and "Inventions" the talk of the country F.P.A. had a terrific following and Granny's sports verse had imitators everywhere. The secret of his popularity was that he was not afraid to be kind, generous and sentimental and was never a member of the cynical set that considered most everything tender and "from the heart" to be "corny." His nature was expressed in his own message: "You are here only a little while. Don't worry. Don't hurry. And don't forget to smell the flowers."

Epworth Youth Unit Prepares For Lawn Fete

Following the custom of other years, features at the annual Epworth Methodist law fete sponsored by the young people Friday night at "Our House," youth center, will include pony rides for the children. In addition a "zoo garden" will display a monkey and other animals. There will be entertainment for adults also, and food will be a main attraction. Theme for the event will be "The Big Thaw." Diana Jones and Roy Loudenslager are general chairmen.

The newly decorated center at 128 S. Vine St. will be open for inspection of the public. Members of the Youth Fellowship cleaned and painted the lower floor recently, with a color scheme of dark green walls and bright yellow drapes for a "new look." The second floor had been cleaned earlier, and the yard has been reconditioned. A large number of the young people have worked on the project and on the arrangements for the lawn festival which is set for 5 p.m. Friday. Tickets are available from the youth group members.

Recorded music will be provided for the program, and adding to the festive atmosphere will be popcorn, balloons, and a "fish pond" game. Special tables will be reserved for those who come on their supper hour from work at the downtown stores, and prompt service is promised. In case of rain it will be held in the church basement.

Proceeds will be divided, with part going toward housing costs for campers from the Fellowship groups at youth institutes, and to "Our House" for overhead expenses and general needs. Recently, 15 Intermediate Fellowship young people attended Sabina Camp, and 38 are planning to go to Lakeside for MYF Institute Aug. 1-7.

County Sheepmen Set Upper Meeting

UPPER SANDUSKY — Wyandot County sheep raisers will take a new kind of tour, a "one-stop," when they visit stations in the junior fair building here, Wednesday, July 28, at 1:30 p.m.

Arranged by the Agricultural Extension Service and the Sheep Improvement Association, the tour is planned to show crossbreeding results. Association members will bring lambs of various crosses to the building for examination and Ralph Grimshaw, Extension Sheep Specialist from OSU, Columbus, will discuss the varied crosses.

The "one-stop" will cut down time required to visit a dozen or more farms to see the cross-bred animals and will also permit direct comparison.

Street Paving Job Well Done by Whoever Did It

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—City officials are very well pleased with street conditions on College Drive.

Mayor Jesse Webb Jr. yesterday knelt and patted the blacktop. Public Works Director J. Lester White waxed eloquent over the workmanship and valued it at several thousand dollars.

Neither the city nor the state did the paving and they don't know who did.

KILLED IN CRASH

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP)—Charles Brown, 77, of Wapakoneta, was killed yesterday when his car and a truck crashed about half of a mile north of here on U.S. 25.

Four Marion teachers were among approximately 800 educators and students from all parts of the United States who attended the Eighth annual Reading Conference at Kent State University recently.

Attending from here were Mrs. Mary Orcutt of 311 Bellefontaine Ave., Oakland Heights elementary teacher; Mrs. Esther Hudnall of 660 Blaine Ave., Silver Street School; Mrs. Betty McNew of 1097 E. Church St., George Washington School; and Mrs. Mary Alice O'Brien of 975 Henry St., Glenwood School. The annual workshop is sponsored by the elementary and kindergarten-primary departments of Kent State's College of Education.

John A. Zachman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Zachman of Chicago, Ill., formerly of Marion, recently sailed from Norfolk, Va., on an eight-week cruise with the United States Navy. Attending Northwestern University at Evanston under a Navy ROTC scholarship, he has been assigned to the battleship Wisconsin and will visit Glasgow, London, Brest, and Guantanimo in the Caribbean.

Zachman

A member of Sigma Nu fraternity, this spring he was elected to Phi Eta Sigma, a freshman men's honorary fraternity requiring A minus grades or better for eligibility. He is also a member of the university marching band and concert band at Northwestern. Prior to entering college last fall and after graduating from Morgan Park High School in Chicago in January, 1953, Zachman worked for Capital Airlines as a flight dispatcher. At Morgan High School Zachman was president of the senior class, president of the Latin Club, a member of the National Honor Society and Tau Epsilon and was given the American Legion Award, the science award and music award upon graduation. He also played in the concert band and orchestra and was leader of the high school dance band.

The Arthur Zachman family moved from Marion to Chicago some 10 years ago after being associated with his father, C. Z. Zachman, in the grocery business here for several years. Zachman is assistant to the vice president in charge of the frozen foods division of Libby McNeill and Libby. John's grandmother is Mrs. C. Z. Zachman of 145 Superior St.

A Commerce College junior, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Larsen of 290 S. Grand Ave. He was graduated in 1952 from Harding High School where he was president of the student council and a member of the school football team. Highlight of the convention will be the dedication of a $250,000 Memorial Building and national headquarters of Pi Kappa Alpha to the 450 Gold Star members of the fraternity.

1,794 in County Receive Social Security Funds

Each month the postman is now delivering a social security check to more than one-third of the Marion County residents over 65 years of age.

Paul D. Snider, manager of the local social security office, stated today that at the start of 1954 there were 1,794 persons over 65 in Marion County receiving a check each month. At the time of the 1950 census, there were nearly 5,000 residents of Marion County over 65. Many of the 5,000 c nnot receive checks at the present time as they are continuing to work. Others do not qualify because they had not worked at employment covered by the Social Security Act.

Snider suggested that those over age 65 who have worked under the law may obtain information about their present status at the local office. Some may be missing out on Social Security, he said.

If you are over age 75, benefits may be paid regardless of the amount of your earnings.

The local social security office is at 127 W. Church St. and the telephone number is 2-9547.

Hydraulic Press Co. Making New Machine

MOUNT GILEAD—The Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co. of Mount Gilead announced today it is now manufacturing a 20 to 28-ounce plastics injection molding machine.

Officials of the company said that they had found the need for the machine arose when plastic-using businesses began making larger parts, rendering a 16 ounce machine, formerly the largest size, too small to do the required work.

Company men say the new machine will be completely hydraulically operated. The horsepower has been increased from 30 on the 16-ounce machine to 50 on the new model. It is in the same price range as the 16-ounce model. Products from the new machine include refrigerator parts, radio cabinets, toys, and house wares.

TO GET MEDALS

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—Two Ohioans, former prisoners of war in North Korea, will be decorated here today by Lt. Gen. Floyd L. Parker of the Second Army. Former Cpl. William H. Abbott of Rt. 1, Jerusalem in Monroe County will receive the recommendation ribbon with metal pendant; former Cpl. Joel R. Adams of Portsmouth will receive the bronze star.

Jet engines make so much noise that special electronic equipment must be used because the loud sounds often cause failures of ordinary types of such equipment.

Museum Planned

8 Marion Men Organize County Historical Group

Articles of incorporation for "The Marion County Historical Association and The Stengel - True Museum, Inc.," have been issued by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's office. Eight Marion men, including Dr. Frederick A. Stengel of 142 S. State St. and Henry A. True of 149 E. Church St., are listed as the corporation's trustees.

Purpose of the non-profit corporation is "to create an educational historical museum for the puspose of encouraging the study of the history of Marion County, Ohio, and to perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who helped to establish and were responsible for the many achievements and growth of the county."

IN CARRYING OUT this aim, the corporation was given the authority to acquire, own, operate and maintain and manage a building or buildings for "housing and protecting all types of collections, antiques, books, manuscripts, curiosities," and other articles depicting the development of Marion County, including villages, towns or cities located in the county.

In addition, the articles give the corporation the right "to receive money or property" and such collections as referred to in its purposes, by "purchase, gift, devise, or other legal means."

True said today that the organization is not yet ready to announce its plans for a site or other details of its proposed historical collection.

OTHER TRUSTEES, in addition to Stengel and True, are Douglas Torrence of 139 E. Center St., Lester Clum of 478 Forest St., William R. Martin of 150 E. Center St., Edson L. Bush of 343 Summit St., Russell C. Snare of the Marion County Bank and John K. Bartram of 144 E. Center St.

The eight trustees will serve until the first annual meeting, or until a meeting is called for the purpose of choosing trustees.

True was named as statutory agent for the corporation.

Lodge Activities

The Prospect American Legion Auxiliary enjoyed a picnic for members and their families Monday night at the Prospect Community Park.

Forty-five were present. A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Grace Jones. A motion was made to accept the auditor's report. A report on the Poppy Fund was given.

Miss Kay Buckingham gave a report on her activities at Girl's State. She thanked the auxiliary for making it possible for her to attend.

SPLIT ON VOTE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Burke (D-Ohio) voted for and Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) against an amendment by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to ban the President's plan for a new private power plant in the Tennessee Valley area. The vote was 55-36.

Love at First Sight

INVERCARGILL, N. Z. (UP)—James Hayes of Wolverhampshire, England, saw so many beautiful girls in the newsreels of Queen Elizabeth's tour of New Zealand, that he's coming out to marry one of them, he says. He wrote the Mayor of Invercargill:

"I think your New Zealand women are beautiful and would like to come to your country by hook or by crook and marry one of them. I saw them in the film of the Queen's journey. I saw some schoolteachers and liked them a lot, so can you give them my address."

FOOD 'UMBRELLA'

NEW YORK (UP) — A "food umbrella" is the latest gadget to come to the aid of picknickers. The umbrella, made of gaily colored cotton net reinforced with wire ribs, fits down over cakes, pies, sandwiches and other foods to protect them from flies and other insects. It is 16 inches square, and can be folded up like any umbrella and tucked in the picnic basket.

The U. S. government sells a booklet entitled "Prospecting for Uranium" which tells of the principal forms of the metal, how preliminary tests can be made and where samples can be sent for assay.

Busman's Holiday

CHESTERTON, Ind. (UP)—For nine months, Robert Schellinger drove 50 children to Westchester Township school each day in his bus. When school closed for the summer, Schellinger took a vacation.

The first day of vacation, he loaded the 50 kids into the school bus and took them to Chicago for a visit to the Museum of Science and Industry—as his guests.

Hope of Uniting Korea Fading, Rhee Realizes

By MURRAY FROMSON

SEOUL (AP)—Stubborn old President Syngman Rhee leaves Sunday for Washington, probably to be told that there is almost no hope of realizing his fondest dream—a Republic of Korea embracing the Communist-ruled North.

Ostensibly the 79-year-old president is going to Washington to discuss a new unification policy with President Eisenhower, since the Geneva conference failed. And publicly he still rallies South Korea's 22 million people with the cry "go north."

But an informed government source says privately Rhee has all but abandoned hope of seeing this divided and war-shattered peninsula reunited before he dies.

President Eisenhower's Far East advisers almost certainly have told him that North Korea must be written off as a loss to the Communists, observers here say.

Intelligence reports from North Korea indicate Red China has turned the area into a vassal state, tied tightly to Peiping both politically and economically.

If unification is all but a dead issue, the agenda for the top level Washington talks slated to open Monday will include the urgent need of pumping more vigor into South Korea's economy and strengthening its army.

Nutritious, Inexpensive Molded Gelatin Salad

Molded salads use inexpensive and nutritious foods such as carrots and cabbage. This one is filled with cottage cheese and is just right for summer luncheons.

Use:

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
¾ cup cold water
¼ cup French dressing
1 cup grated raw carrots
1 cup finely shredded cabbage

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water and French dressing. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in carrots and cabbage. Pour into 1-quart ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp greens. Fill center with cottage cheese. Garnish with additional grated carrot. Makes 6 servings.

Millersburg Youth Wins Ohio Medical Group Scholarship

Winner of the sixth annual Ohio State Medical Association Rural Medical Scholarship, which will contribute $2,000 toward his medical education, is M. Robert Huston, 22, of Millersburg, the association announced today.

The Holmes County youth son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Huston received his premedical training at Ohio Wesleyan University and will enter the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine this fall.

Active in 4-H Club Scouting and the youth work of his local Methodist Church, Huston was highly praised by Millersburg organizations and individuals for his community activities and leadership. In addition he was able to earn about half of his premedical college expenses. In 1953 he received the Edward L. Rice Zoology Scholarship at Ohio Wesleyan for special studies in that field.

The medical scholarship plan was instituted five years ago by Ohio doctors of medicine to stimulate the interest of rural young men and women in the study of medicine and to encourage them to become country doctors.

Previous recipients are Dr. C. Craig Wright, now serving as a medical officer with the U. S. Air Force; Dr. Robert G. Smith, Proctorville, Lawrence County; Donald Nikolaus, Johnsville, Morrow County; and J. Daniel Timmons, New Madison, Darke County, who will be members of the senior and junior medical classes respectively at the Ohio State University College of Medicine this fall, and Raymond Cole, Findlay, who will be a sophomore at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine.

Crop Damage To Affect Prices

Heat, Drought Alter Economic Scene

NEW YORK (AP) — Drought and heat over side areas of the nation are unsettling part of the economic outlook.

Family budgets may be affected. Already some food prices are rising. Others may fall because of the drought's effects. Damage to the cotton crop could work its way in time to higher prices of sheets, shirts and dresses.

Severe crop damage if the drought is prolonged could cut the total the government will be paying out in price supports.

Farm incomes are already affected in many sections.

Drought and heat damage to the corn and soybean crops have sent commodity prices higher. But this is small comfort to the farmer who sees his money crop shriveling away—or to the merchant and manufacturer who cater to farm customers.

Rising prices of corn and other feeds may speed up the rush of hogs to the market already under way as the large pig crop of last spring starts to mature. Even before the drought, government officials were predicting falling pork prices this fall.

If drought and heat continue to sear pasturelands they may drive a lot of cattle to the stockyards too. The cattle population is higher this year.

The American Meat Institute predicts the total meat supply this year will be three per cent higher than last year and set a new record for consumption. So the heat and drought could mean lower meat prices, if a rush to market develops — but the quality of the meat would be less toothsome.

Butter production has been dropping because of the heat. Since the government has large surplus stocks, the housewife may see little change in butter prices. But dairy farmers will have less income.

At the same time, heat-damaged soybean and cotton crops may raise the price of cotton seed and soybean oils—ingredients that margarine makers use.

Heat has killed young chickens in some places—which may mean higher broiler prices in the fall. It has also cut egg production and sent egg prices rising on the commodity markets.

In some sections of the nation this is the second year of drought, making this year's onslaught all the more painful. In places it is threatening future productivity of the land.

Farm income totals have been down for some time—one of the chief weak spots in the economy. Because farmers have had less cash to spend, merchants through the farm belt have had curtailed sales volume. Makers of farm machinery have been hit. Layoffs in their plants were one of the chief factors in the rise in unemployment last winter.

Any crop losses this year, therefore, would be that much more unsettling to the farm belt economy.

There's always another side to the picture. Heat waves have been a boon to many dealers in air conditioners. Stocks which were piling up to the woes of dealers and manufacturers have begun to move quickly in areas worse hit by the heat, merchants report. Price-cutting had unsettled the market. Industry leaders were moaning about overproduction.

Soft drink bottlers and ice cream makers also report sales zooming.

The weather bureau predicts above normal heat will be the lot of much of the nation for several weeks more. The rains for which so many pray aren't yet in sight.

First Civilian KPs Welcome Arrivals At Air Force Base

ENID, Okla. (AP) — A popular bunch of civilians arrived at Vance Air Force Base yesterday.

They are the advance guard of Nationwide Food Services Inc., a Chicago catering firm, which will do KP at Vance on an experimental basis for 11 months beginning Aug. 1.

Nationwide under the contract will furnish all kitchen police and cooks while the Air Force furnishes the food and equipment.

Upper Driver Injured In Auto-Truck Mishap

UPPER SANDUSKY — Virginia Rose McClain, 32, of this city was treated in Wyandot Memorial Hospital early Wednesday morning for minor injuries she sustained when she was involved in an auto-truck collision.

The mishap occurred at the intersection of E. Wyandot Ave. and Fifth St. Miss McClain was traveling north on Fifth St. and was crossing the intersection when her auto was struck on the right side by the westbound truck driven by Paul Norman Cripe, 42, of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Lightning had blown out a motor in one of the traffic light control boxes over night and had thrown the traffic lights about town out of order. The light at that particular intersection was continuously flashing red for Fifth St. traffic and amber, or caution, for east-west traffic.

Miss McClain was taken to Wyandot Memorial Hospital in the Bringman & Co. ambulance, but was released after treatment for a minor leg injury.

Junior Olympics Events Rescheduled at Bucyrus

BUCYRUS—Wet grounds caused postponement Wednesday of the third annual Bucyrus Playgrounds' Junior Olympics. The program has been rescheduled for Friday at Aumiller Park.

In addition to 25 athletic events, the outstanding attraction will be selection of a king and queen with four candidates competing from Harmon, Kilbourne and Crawford playgrounds. Judges are Mrs. Calvin Beeson, Mrs. M. P. Paetznick and Mike Drew.

Susie Shindledecker was the 1953 queen. There was no king selected last year. Miss Betty Gorsuch, municipal playground supervisor, said.
